HEAVY SNOW BATTERS STATE

—FARM PROBLEM CHALLENGE TO DEMOCRATS—

Ike Will Ink Any 'Effective' Ag Bill

...URGES QUICK SOLVING OF WHEAT RIDDLE

Washington (P) — President Eisenhower presented his election year farm program Tuesday and challenged the Democratic-controlled Congress to come up with a better solution to the critical wheat surplus problem than he proposed.

"I will approve any constructive solution," Eisenhower said. Thus, as expected, he modified past administration insistence that the wheat crisis be met by lowering price supports and eliminating production controls.

But in his special message the President stressed that it is imperative for Congress to move promptly to deal with a situation that is costing the government 1½ million dollars every day — $1,000 a minute to stabilize wheat prices and income.

Without prompt action by both Congress and the government, he said, "this entire program will collapse under the pressure of public indignation and thousands of our farming people will be hurt."

State Farmers Cross Fingers

... MESSAGE 'FIRST REAL HOPE'

By Glenn Kreuscher
Staff Farm Writer

Nebraska farm leaders greeted the President's ag message with hope in their hearts and fingers crossed.

It was interpreted as a change in the administration's past position on handling farm problems and as a willingness on Eisenhower's part to consider legislation that has previously been dumped in the presidential wastebasket.

"A step in the right direction and the first real hope out of Washington for the farmer," said the executive secretary of the Nebraska Wheat Growers Assn. — C. H. "Manny" Kreader.

'Open Door'

Nebraska Farmers Union Chief Elton Berck said the action could "open the door to effective legislation."

State Grange Master George A. Spidel said the administration has "constructive suggestions offered by the Grange and other farm groups" to follow in setting up legislation to help farmers.

"This is a distinct about-face from his (the President's) take-it-or-leave-it attitude of only a month ago,"

K. LEAVES FOR ASIA

Moscow (P) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev left Moscow by plane Tuesday for visits to India and 3 other Asian countries to build up Soviet prestige in that area.

Khrushchev was accompanied by a number of members of his family and a large party of Soviet officials.

generally welcomed by Republicans, including some who had opposed his previous proposals. Many of the GOP legislators said the President has put the problem where it belongs, up to Congress.

Some Democrats called Eisenhower's proposals disappointing. But Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said the message "casts a ray of hope that we may soon enact wheat legislation."

However, Ellender said, if there is to be any real co-operation between Congress and the administration in enacting wheat legislation "it is necessary that we obtain the active support" of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Benson Under Fire
Benson has been under particularly heavy fire since Eisenhower last year vetoed a bill that would have required wheat growers to cut their planting in return for higher price supports.

Eisenhower's message outlined 4 recommendations outside his solution to the wheat problem:

1. A 3-year extension of the soil bank land retirement program and an expansion from the present 28 million acres to 60 million acres. This program is designed to help curtail over-production.

2. A vigorous advancement of the government's food for peace program to combat hunger by moving U.S. surpluses to needy areas abroad.

3. An aggressive research program to develop new markets and new uses for farm products.

4. An expansion of the rural development program to help low income rural families find better opportunity on and off the land.

Democratic congressional leaders strongly indicated they will accept Eisenhower's challenge.

Some said privately that the President's special message had succeeded in "putting the monkey on our back" as far as the responsibility for initiating new farm legislation was concerned.

HOSSACK ESTIMATES:

Lincoln Access Work By 1962

By Don Walton

Construction of Lincoln's access route to the Interstate Highway is likely to get underway during fiscal 1962, Acting State Engineer John Hossack said Tuesday.

Engineering for the $7.4 million connection has already begun, Hossack pointed out.

Acquisition of right-of-way along the 3-mile route will be in full swing during the latter part of this year.

The access includes 1.9 miles within the city and an additional 1.1 miles in the surrounding rural area.

Determination of the exact priority which the Lincoln access will receive in relation to other urban construction under the proposed urban-rural funds split lies with the State Department of Roads.

Approval from Gov. Ralph Brooks and consultation with the State Highway Advisory Commission will precede the final determination, Hossack indicated.

Lincoln's access will thus be "phased in" with Omaha urban construction, the engineer pointed out.

Part 'Rural'
Portions of the Lincoln connection (1.1 miles) could be included in rural construction under the proposed split, Hossack noted.

The approved route uses 9th and 10th as a one-way pair, crossing the Burlington Railroad tracks on elevated structures, skirting the west edge of the Hayward School area, crossing Oak Lake Park's east lake, and connecting at 7th and Superior.

Largest single expense in the cost breakdown is a $2,945,800 estimate for bridges. Included are twin viaducts across the railroad tracks near the University of Nebraska's Memorial Stadium, and twin bridges at X St., Charleston, Salt Creek and Oak Lake.

Big Wine Ship, Fully Loaded, Reels In Towering Seas Off West Coast

San Francisco (P) — A mighty wave washed down the funnel of the big wine tanker Angelo Petri just off San Francisco's Golden Gate Tuesday and sent her reeling helplessly without power.

Three Coast Guard helicopters lifted 14 of the 39-man crew from the rolling vessel. They then suspended operations at the request of the Petri's captain, Edward A. Lehn Jr. of San Mateo, Calif.

Lehn told the Coast Guard he hoped that, with the aid of two Coast Guard cutters and two commercial tugs, he and the remaining crewmen could save the $7 million ship and her cargo of 2½ million gallons of bulk wine.

Finally, more than 4 hours after the ship's ordeal began, an anchor found tentative hold on the bottom 3.7 miles southeast of the San Francisco beach.

Rescue craft still strove to get lines aboard, hampered by the high seas but with rising prospects of success.

The tanker, largest of her type in the world, had just started out to sea.

"A solid blue mass of water poured in and lit up the control board like a Christmas tree," said Orrie Schunk, 61-year-old oiler from New Orleans. "Then everything went black."

The captain immediately ordered the anchors dropped but they failed to hold. A general distress signal was sent out.

The Petri was plying a regular route between Stockton, Calif., Houston, Tex., and Newark, N.J., by way of the Panama Canal.

5-Inch-Plus Fall Snarls Highways

...COLD DUE; LINCOLN DIGGS OUT

A hit-and-run snowstorm hit Nebraska Tuesday, causing major traffic jams in the Omaha area, and dumping up to 5 inches of new snow on Lincoln and other areas.

Snow was expected to end in the state by Wednesday morning and winds to diminish by afternoon. Cold wave warnings are out for the east Wednesday. Temperatures are not expected to rise above 15 in the north and 20 to 25 in the south.

Blocked highways in eastern Nebraska brought traffic to a near standstill Tuesday night and early Wednesday.

A deadly combination of icy undercoating, heavy snow, high winds causing drifting, and low visibility, caused the State Safety Patrol to halt all traffic in the Omaha, Lincoln, Fremont areas and warn all motorists to keep off the highways.

All Blocked

All roads out of Omaha and Council Bluffs were blocked Tuesday night by snow and by stalled cars and trucks. Dodge and Center Sts. west out of Omaha closed after cattle trucks heading for the Omaha stockyards jackknifed or slid into ditches on the icy hills.

Traffic piled up for several miles northeast of Ashland and closed U.S. 6 when trucks heading for Omaha were unable to climb the steep grade of Amelia Hill.

Highways out of Fremont in all directions were blocked late Tuesday despite early sanding by the state highway department crews. High winds threatened all roads in the northeastern area where 3 to 5 inches of light dry snow drifted highways closed almost as fast as they were opened.

Early Wednesday Highway 34 was reported blocked near York and in other scattered areas according to Patrol officials. Continued drifting was expected to close travel to more roads later Wednesday the Patrol said.

Varying amounts of snow fell across the entire state. Heaviest falls were concentrated in the northeast and south central sections.

Lincoln, Syracuse, Minden and Norfolk all reported 5 inches of new snow by early Wednesday.

As temperatures dropped across the state the heavy wet snow of earlier Tuesday turned to dry snow and caused severe drifting.

Earlier rain and sleet storms left an undercoating of ice on the state's highways which was especially heavy in the central and eastern parts of the state.

Northeast Pelted

In northeastern Nebraska, where 4½ or more inches of snow remained from past storms, an additional 3 to 5 inches of light dry snow fell, blowing and causing heavy drifting, and cutting visibility down to 150 yards.

State Patrol officials received a flood of calls late Tuesday on minor accidents and cars stranded, and at peak periods were not able to handle all calls.

State Maintenance Engineer John McMeekin summed up roads condition across the state by commenting: "This would be a good time to stay home."

Western Nebraska received lesser amounts of snow, and the southern border of the state had precipitation in the form of rain or sleet before snow started late Tuesday.

Barometers Hit New Low In Great Plains

A raging storm, so intense it pushed barometers to their lowest levels in history, swept the Great Plains Tuesday with snows, dust, and tornado winds.

The dust over a 500-mile Texas storm belt was so thick that it hid the sun. Tumbleweeds piled up roof-high against Amarillo, houses and the wind blew at 96 mph in Oklahoma.

The lowest barometric pressures since weather records began in the 1880's were reported in Colorado, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

The all-time lows included 28.73 inches at Wichita, Kan., 28.81 at Kansas City, Mo., 28.83 at Oklahoma City, 29.08 at Dallas, and 23.77 at Denver.

As the storm moved over Missouri Tuesday night, the U.S. Weather Bureau issued tornado, heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings for wide areas of the Midwest and South.

Wednesday, the forecasters said, the storm should cross the Ohio Valley towards New England.

The storm came on the 90th birthday of the U.S. Weather Bureau. Hard-pressed forecasters had no time to celebrate.

The Texas dust storm hit the same area which was buried under 10-inch snows last week.

While the storm raged across the midlands, the temperature climbed to 98 degrees at Laredo, Tex., and to a record 58 for the date at Harrisburg, Penn.

BOMB ROCKS NEGRO HOME

Little Rock, Ark. (P) — A small dynamite bomb exploded Tuesday night at the home of Carlotta Walls, one of 3 Negroes enrolled in the once-white Central High school here.

No one was injured, although 4 members of the Walls family were asleep in the opposite side of the house.

Police said the dynamite — about two sticks of it — was thrown beside the entrance steps. It blew a hole two feet wide in a wall and broke all the windows in the north side of the house.

Several windows in other homes in the Wall's neighborhood were broken.

Police were rushing to the homes of other Negro students who attend white schools.

West Coast Hit By Giant Seas

Several Homes Wrecked, Many Flee, Fishing Craft Driven On Rocks

San Francisco (UPI) — Wind-whipped 40-foot breakers crashed against the California and Oregon coasts Tuesday, wrecked several homes, threw boulders across scenic highways and drove fishing boats onto the rocks.

The giant seas, accompanied by gale-force winds, pounded the coast in the climax to a violent 3-day storm that caused widespread flooding and threatened to wash out the Olympic Games at Squaw Valley.

At least 3 persons died in the storm. More than 1,000 fled from their homes in the lowlands of the rampaging Eel and Russian Rivers in northwest California.

Rain slackened in most areas Tuesday and snow in the mountains increased. The heavy seas remained the chief hazard in the crazy-quilt pattern of weather that alternated blue skies and rainbows with blinding squalls and shrieking wind.

The sea flung boulders onto the famed 17-mile drive near Pebble Beach on Monterey Bay. A section of the Monterey Peninsula Country Golf Club course was under water.

At least two homes were demolished and a dozen others damaged by waves at Shelter Cove near Pacifica, Calif., 15 miles south of San Francisco.

A resident said it was "as noisy and frightening as a bombing raid."

Formal U.S., Cuban Talks To Open Soon

Havana (UPI)—Formal Cuban-American talks aimed at warming chilled diplomatic relations will start here soon, foreign diplomatic sources predicted Tuesday.

These sources said U.S. Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal would return to his Havana post soon. But they did not believe he would be back until after the departure next week of Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan.

Lending added weight to this belief was the comparatively mild tone of the Cuban government press and radio toward the United States.

Eastern Traffic At Snail Pace

Heavy snow and low visibility canceled air travel out of Lincoln and other eastern Nebraska towns Tuesday, and icy highways caused late schedules in bus travel, and caused some cancellations.

Trains were reported running on or near schedule.

Bus terminal officials said some runs to northeastern Nebraska and Omaha were canceled early Wednesday.

Got Money For Advice, Says Ex-DJ

Washington (UPI) A former disc jockey said Tuesday he received $15,225 from 16 record manufacturers and distributors in the two years before he was fired by a Cleveland radio station.

He told the House commerce subcommittee he could see nothing "immoral" about the payments.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) told him bluntly, however, that the arrangement was "a very bad situation" which "reflects on the entire broadcasting industry."

Finan also denied a charge he was paid $50 a week for each RCA record played on his program.

He conceded he received payments from the firm to "screen" its records. However, he said all the extra money he received from record companies was to compensate him for his work as an adviser on record potentialities.

Finan, 32, insisted his consulting service "never jeopardized my independent judgment" in selecting records for his radio program.

He testified his regular earnings at KYW last year totaled about $38,000 or $40,000—not including the extra payments by record companies of $10,225 last year and $5,000 in 1958. Finan was fired last December for "violation of company policy."

Fireworks Plant Hit By Blasts

Havre de Grace, Md. (AP)—A series of explosions ripped through a sprawling fireworks plant here Tuesday touching off a mammoth fire and killing the owner.

The body of James Archie Fabrizio, 35-year-old owner of the Havre de Grace Fireworks Co., was identified by a medical examiner from two false teeth and his belt buckle. A man saw him walk into one of the buildings just before it blew up.

Five persons were injured, including two employees.

The 18 to 20 small buildings of the plant covered 10 acres on the outskirts of this town at the northern end of Chesapeake Bay. The whitewashed cement block buildings varied in size from 8 to 10 feet to 25 by 60 feet. Only two or three were left standing.

Sixty-three of the firm's 75 employees were on the job when the first explosion went off. There were about 30 explosions in all. Six were big ones, spewing timbers and other debris into the air and breaking windows in nearby homes.

Burned-out fireworks lay amid the smoldering rubble. "Light my tail and get away," one carton read.

The giant sparklers used in Washington last December to greet President Eisenhower on his return from Europe and Asia were made in this plant.

—MOSCOW— Diplomats Puzzled

... By K's Demands

Moscow (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev departs Wednesday on a new barnstorming tour in Asia, leaving behind him a diplomatic colony puzzled by his blunt pre-summit demands on the key international issues of Germany and West Berlin.

The foreign diplomatic corps in Moscow, which witnessed his animated exchange of views with visiting Italian President Giovanni Gronchi, has been invited to be present when the premier takes off from Vnukovo Airport for India.

Demands Separate Pacts

President Gronchi is not scheduled to leave Moscow until Thursday. He spends Wednesday in Leningrad, freshly and personally briefed by a candid Khrushchev on the Soviet position with regard to the German and Berlin questions. The Soviet premier still demands that the big powers sign separate treaties with communist East and federal West Germany and that the occupation status of Berlin be ended by making West Berlin a "free city."

(In Bonn, a West German foreign office spokesman said Khrushchev's blasts "show a noticeable toughening of Soviet policy." Spokesmen for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party said Khrushchev's latest statements were "not calculated to strengthen faith in the sincerity and good will of the Soviet Union." An opposition Socialist leader, Karl Mommer, took issue with Khrushchev's insistence that Germany's present borders could be changed only by war.)

Mobile, Ala. (AP)—The epring Hill College seismograph recorded a very strong earthquake Tuesday night.

Father L. J. Eisele said the epicenter was about 8,940 miles away, probably in the region of the Philippine Islands. He said its intensity was strong enough to cause extensive damage if it occurred in a populated area.

A Key Man Suspect Held In $13.5 Million Bank Job

Chicago (UPI) — A convicted gun runner surrendered Tuesday on charges of playing a key role in one of the biggest robberies of modern criminal history, the $13,500,000 looting of a Canadian bank.

Norman Rothman, 45, Surfside, Fla., came to Chicago fresh from a Pittsburgh, Pa., conviction on charges of stealing Army rifles and trying to smuggle them to the Cuban rebel forces of Fidel Castro in 1958.

Rothman faces 5 years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine on that charge. But in Chicago he must defend himself against charges of engaging in a labyrinthine international conspiracy to steal and sell a fortune in securities, gems and cash.

Part of the king-sized loot may have been used to buy arms for Cuban revolutionaries, Chicago sources said. Rothman, a one-time Havana gambling hall operator, was suspected of being a key man in disposing of the loot, the sources said.

The money came from the May 3, 1958, robbery of the Brockville, Ont., bank. Thieves got into the bank vaults over a week-end and stripped them clean. Since then, portions of the loot have turned up as far away as Shanghai, Argentina, Cuba, and Melbourne.

Although the loot was 10 times greater than that of the famous Boston Brink's hold-up, the details have emerged only during the last months following the indictment of Rothman and 4 other men in Chicago.

Ike Is Flying To Cape Canaveral

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower will fly to Florida Wednesday to inspect the missile test center at Cape Canaveral, but not, the White House said, to see an actual launching.

Eisenhower has been trying for some time, presidential press Secretary James C. Hagerly said, to arrange his schedule to work in a visit to Cape Canaveral, the big base from which space probes have been fired and military missiles tested.

Eisenhower flew to Gettysburg, Pa., by helicopter Tuesday to have dinner with the First Lady and stay overnight at their farm estate. Mrs. Eisenhower stayed on at Gettysburg after she and the President spent the week-end there.

Transfer Of Beer License Gets Approval

The County Board Tuesday approved transfer of the Sky-lane Club's beer license from 56th and Cornhusker to 32nd and Adams after a heated hour-long public hearing.

Nine persons, most of them Northeast Lincoln residents, appeared to oppose the transfer. They said it would result in added congestion on the highway and also said it would be a bad influence on the surrounding area.

Atty. Norman Krivosha, representing Skyline operator Anthony Pusateri, stressed the application was for a transfer, not for a new beer license. He said Pusateri and his father have operated for nearly 30 years with a spot-less record.

Krivosha said the transfer request was made necessary when Ford Van Lines, which owns the building where the club is now located, informed Pusateri that it needed the club space by May 1.

No Other Sites

He said several other locations were investigated but the 32nd and Adams site was the only feasible one.

Atty. Max Kier, the only other person appearing in favor of the application, said many of the objections voiced at the hearing came from persons who were opposed to the sale of beer and liquor, and that this was not the question before the board.

The board approved the transfer, 3-0. Board Chairman Rollin Bailey noted that it was in line with county policy that a transfer must be to a near-by location.

The State Liquor Commission still must approve the transfer but it usually follows the recommendation of the county governing body.

Bailey said a study should be made to determine if some downtown properties might not be valued too highly on tax rolls.

He said a recent State Supreme Court decision found the court upholding the contention of an Omaha building owner that his property was worth only $600,000, not $1 million as had been claimed by the Douglas County assessor.

Bailey said he believed it would be better to meet the problem by studying the matter and taking action rather than to wait for county prop-

County OK's New Officer For Juveniles

The County Board Tuesday agreed to approve an emergency appropriation of $1,000 to make possible the hiring of a part-time juvenile probation officer.

Juvenile Probation Officer Helen Cox said her two male assistant probation officers now are handling 189 cases between them, and that they should not have to handle over 50 apiece. She said the case load is increasing and asked the board to approve hiring University of Nebraska student Jack Neeley to help out.

She proposed a $150 a month salary for Neeley.

The County Attorney's office was directed to prepare a resolution which will authorize adding $1,000 to Mrs. Cox' 1959-60 budget.

erty valuations to be rejected by the courts.

County Assessor Arthur Davis agreed with him. He said he also believed some older residential areas should be surveyed for possible decline in value.

To Study Cost

Davis said he will discuss the cost of such a study with professional appraising firms and report to the Board. He noted detailed information on the nature of buildings gathered in the 1953 county-wide professional appraisal of real estate could be used in a new study.

Among downtown buildings listed by Bailey as vacant or partially vacant were structures which formerly housed the Banker's Life Insurance Co. of Nebraska, the State Farm Mutual Insurance Co., the Continental National Bank and the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Bailey said he understands Montgomery Ward will soon move to the Gateway Shopping Center and he "assumes" at least part of the First National Bank building will be vacant when the bank merges with the Continental National at its new location.

City Asks County To Pave 2 Streets

The City of Lincoln has asked the County Board to include paving of two short stretches of streets in its 1960 county road program.

The board Tuesday received the request which asked that an 800-foot stretch of 70th between O St. and the north line of the Missouri Pacific right-of-way and a 500-foot stretch of 33rd St. from Adams south to the Burlington right-of-way be paved. The areas involved are in the county.

The board took the proposal under advisement.

Snow Causes Numerous Auto Mishaps

A rash of minor traffic accidents broke out in Lincoln during Tuesday's snow storm. Police recorded a total of 18 accidents during the hours from 3 to 6 p.m. at the peak of rush-hour traffic. Altogether, Tuesday, 25 accidents were reported.

Only one of the accidents, however, resulted in injuries and they were minor. Most of the accidents were the fender-bender type.

Traffic jams occurred regularly as many motorists found going tough, especially up hills.

Elsewhere things were rather quiet. No incidents were reported by police as most people, even would-be law-breakers, evidently were content to ride-out the storm in the warmth of their homes.

Mrs. Frandsen Dies In Florida; Former Lincolnite

Orlando, Fla. (UPI) — Mrs. Mattie M. Frandsen, wife of Prof. J. H. Frandsen, emeritus head of the dairy industry department at the University of Massachusetts, died Tuesday after a brief illness. She was 80 years old.

Mrs. Frandsen in recent years had collaborated with her husband in the editing and publication of two books about the dairy industry.

She was born in Denmark and came with her parents to this country at the age of 3. They were pioneer settlers in northern Iowa. She was graduated from Iowa State College in 1906.

She lived in Moscow, Idaho, and Lincoln, Neb., when her husband was head of the dairy department at the universities in those states. In 1926, they moved to Amherst, Mass., when he took charge of the department at the University of Massachusetts. They were winter residents of Orlando in recent years.

Included among her survivors is a sister, Emma J. Madsen of Lincoln.

Board Eyes Sale Of Property Near Veterans Hospital

The Lincoln Board of Education is contemplating the sale of a 4.86 acre strip of land located south of Veterans Hospital to the Peterson Const. Co.

Ervin Peterson expressed the firm's desire to purchase school-owned property which is located along the south edge of the proposed development of Wedgewood Manor subdivision, north and east of Veterans hospital.

If the school board approves the sale, the Peterson firm would also acquire a strip of ground 80 feet wide, on the north edge of the school board's property, and also some creek area at the east of the board's property on which Peterson plans to create a lake.

According to Peterson, the acquisition of the 4.86 acres would sufficiently widen the narrow strip of Peterson-owned ground between Veterans Hospital and the school land, to accommodate reasonably lots.

At least 63 hours of college work are required for admission.

Ice Skaters Set Attendance Record For Auditorium Ice

Ice skaters set two attendance records the past weekend at Pershing Municipal Auditorium.

Manager Dick Wagner said Sunday was the blue ribbon day with a total of 722 persons for a new one-day mark.

Additionally, the new top for a single public session was set with 393 paid admissions during the afternoon session.

Wagner said Sunday revenue was $337, including two rental sessions — one by the Lincoln Air Force Base and the other by the Lincoln Figure Skating Club.

In all, 1,144 persons used the ice facilities over the weekend. During the 5-day run, Jan. 27-31, a total of 1,612 skaters were on hand.

During the two periods, 19 scheduled public sessions attracted 2,206 persons for an average of 116 per session.

Bob Dula, LAFB recreation director, reported over 250 servicemen and dependents attended the Air Base skating party Sunday afternoon for a new attendance record of any LAFB rentals of auditorium ice.

Wagner said public ice skating, now in its third season at the auditorium, has shown "improvement each year in attendance figures with a sharp increase in recent sessions."

Expenses Covered

"The average daily revenue for these two periods," he said, "exceeded the out-of-pocket expense of making and maintaining the skating ice during these days."

Wagner said a heavy schedule of other events — including 10 performances next week by Ice Capades — would prohibit further public skating until March 5-6-7. "We hope to be able to schedule another session later in March," he added.

A Clearing Picture

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

While the general public is undoubtedly fed up to the teeth with the long and involved Interstate Highway controversy, the subject cannot be skipped over at this point even if it is beyond the saturation point. For about a month now the state has been in a turmoil and the sad thing is that it was about as needless as anything could be.

The entire issue started with a Lincoln group which, armed with "facts" which must have come from a bad dream, told outstate interests that Omaha was getting all the Interstate funds and there would be no construction outstate until the entire project was finished. A picture was painted of other states around Nebraska enjoying hundreds of miles of the Interstate while Nebraska sat on its hind legs with a measly hundred or so miles completed. Nebraska was portrayed as moving entirely in the wrong direction with emphasis on urban work and the cry grew to a great crescendo for the terrible Omaha "boondoggle" to be stopped.

The term "Omahog" was coined by one outstate editor and became quite a popular one. A few people, including some hungry politicians such as John Cooper of Humboldt, raised the old story of "boss" rule of the Democrats in the Statehouse by Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle of Omaha.

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce endorsed the program of Greater Nebraska Interstate Inc. which was formed as the official spearhead of this movement to secure outstate construction ahead of Omaha. This they did despite the fact that Lincoln has been and still is scheduled to receive a new viaduct and divided lane highway from 10th and O to the Interstate north of Belmont, at a total cost of more than $7 million.

This was not strictly an Interstate access route as it had two interchanges, at least, on it where local traffic from the north and northeast could enter it and come into downtown Lincoln. This, too, was moving ahead of outstate work but the Lincoln group said nothing about it and the rest of the state evidently didn't think of it. But nobody was doing much thinking in this issue so that matter is not surprising.

However, time rolled on and GNI was given a hearing before the governor and the State Highway Commission. There, they changed from complete abandonment of the Omaha downtown project simply to a split of 77 per cent Interstate money outstate and 23 per cent in urban areas. Despite whatever the GNI might now say, this was a substantial departure from their point of beginning and the basis on which they stirred up so much feeling against the present highway program.

As was stated here more than a week ago, the facts would show that all the money was not being spent in Omaha and that outstate work would proceed. Now, the Highway Commission, which even GNI must admit is impartial, has recommended a 77 per cent-23 per cent split and added that this is approximately what the present program consists of.

GNI will undoubtedly maintain that the commission has approved its program but this will be nothing more than another misrepresentation added to the many that have already taken place. The present program did not arrive at this splitting point simply by arbitrarily dividing the funds in such a manner between urban and rural interests. It arrived there by planning its program according to traffic needs, the availability of funds, the need for a flexible working plan and a natural recognition of the justice in a widespread effort.

It is our opinion that the Highway Department and Gov. Ralph Brooks have as good a method of arriving at the desired end as does the GNI with its suggested split. GNI can and probably will say that it arrives at this point of division in our state and urban work on an annual basis while the current state program does not arrive at this point until about 1964. However, GNI can show no particular merit in its position and the issue would be splitting hairs. It all boils down to the fact that the public has been greatly misled by a group badly misinformed by a few woefully uninformed people.

This current priority issue started with GNI at a point at which good judgment and the present state administration could not agree with and in good conscience, had to challenge. GNI then moved from this stalemate to a point which placed it by a somewhat different route, at almost exactly the same place the state administration stood. When the state then approved this final position GNI claimed a victory—a maneuver which should be as obvious as it is clever. It is important that this be fully understood because this issue has served to further divide the state into sectional pockets and has tended to wrongfully discredit the present state administration. Those responsible for this disservice should be held accountable by the public.

Misinformation
All Around

All Death Not Fatal

People often remark that someone was "drowned to death" and it brings a chuckle to those who know that drowning in this sense includes death within the one word. On the other hand, when we speak of death, we do not always mean it as something fatal. Rep. Clarence Cannon, Missouri Democrat, made a plea in the House to increase President Eisenhower's military budget and backed his position with the statement that "every city in the United States is subject to direct attack and our enemy has the weapons to launch such an attack now."

Republicans sprang to their feet and accused Cannon of trying to "scare the American people to death." Well, if we had a choice of which kind of death we wanted, we would take the "scare" kind the GOP talks about. Most people can recover from being "scared to death" but the bombing death of which Rep. Cannon speaks is of the strictly fatal variety.

Better Form Of Aid

The new 68 member International Development Association is off to a good start and ultimately will have resources of one billion dollars.

Sen. Monroney of Oklahoma is credited with fostering this new economic agency and making it a part of the World Bank. Its purpose is to assist underdeveloped countries with soft loans which is to say loans on an especially lenient basis, generally in great part repayable with the borrowing country's own currency.

This is a type of foreign aid that especially recommends itself to the economically undernourished countries. It permits

Republicans should not be concerned over whether the American people are being scared to death but they should be concerned over whether the scare is warranted. Nothing is more discouraging than pouring millions and even billions into defense as it does nothing in a direct way toward the improvement of the American standard of living. Outside of an overall influence on the entire economy, the average American gets nothing concrete from defense spending.

But he does get security, even though this is not something he can hang on the wall or decorate the house with. The terrible reality of it is that you cannot afford to take chances with security. If you have one miscalculation and your enemy takes advantage of it, then you get no second chance. If your security is tested in this day and age, the money you might have saved by scrimping would be of no value whatsoever.

them to make improvements in their economy without starving their capital and it further induces the lending countries to buy raw materials or needed finished products in the promotion of world trade.

There is another strong argument in favor of the agency. In the forthcoming economic competition with Russia it provides an attractive answer to Russian price cutting. No nation can afford to accept cheap goods just for the sake of cheapness, even at giveaway prices. Nations must be able to work and earn as well as buy. The IDA recognizes that.

Congress Given The Ball

After 7 years of firm resistance to modification of administration farm program policy the conciliatory attitude of President Eisenhower in his message to Congress on farm legislation was unexpected.

The first reaction to his remarks gave them the burden of saying to Congress, "Take the problem, legislate it the way you see it. If it is reasonable and constructive I shall not veto it."

The President left the gate open for return to parity, higher price supports and acreage allocations, or for continuing the Benson plan of unlimited production on supports based on open market averages. He endorsed the soil bank program.

Payola Goes On In High Places

WASHINGTON—Three incidents occurred in different parts of the country recently, all bearing on the subject of what has been dubbed "payola."

In Chicago, it was learned that veteran disc jockey Al Benson received $855 a month from record companies which wanted their music played over the air. He denied this was payola. "I won't hide behind the fifth amendment," he said. "What I am doing is perfectly legitimate."

In Washington, charming Mamie Eisenhower attending a luncheon given by cabinet wives, wore two beautiful clips of jewels given her by the Brazilian government with earrings and bracelet to match. "They were given to me when Ike was chief of staff and we visited Latin America," she explained quite frankly.

In Hyde Park, a visitor going through the Roosevelt library, which now belongs to the U.S. government, noted an aquamarine given Mrs. Roosevelt by President Vargas of Brazil which she in turn had given the U.S. government.

Nobody really believes that the beautiful Brazilian jewels given Mrs. Eisenhower influenced American policy toward Brazil; nor that the heavy gold mesh bag which Emperor Haile Selassie gave her more recently influenced U.S. policy toward Ethiopia; nor that the very expensive necklace presented her by King Saud of Saudi Arabia has swayed policy toward his country.

Nevertheless, when King Saud gave expensive jewelry to Mrs. Eugene Black, wife of the head of the World Bank, Mr. Black had it appraised, found that it was worth around $12,000, and politely notified the Saudi Arabian ambassador that Mrs. Black could not accept it.

And with the question of gifts—or payola—now under the spotlight, it's only fair to examine gifts given to those in very high places. This is one reason why the Interstate Commerce Commission has just issued a firm directive to all members that they must accept no favors on penalty of being fired.

The precedent set by the Constitution of the United States on the question of payola is, of course, quite clear. It states that no government official can "accept of any present, emolument, office, or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign state."

The founding fathers considered this so important that they put it in the very first article of the constitution.

West Virginia Battle Ground

WASHINGTON — Senators John Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey have each paid $1,000 to have their names put on the primary ballots in West Virginia. Though both have been rather casual about this contest, which takes place May 10, both have spoken many times in the state and carefully checked its possibilities.

What it could do for one or the other is to improve his claim to be the favorite of labor, particularly the forgotten men in our affluent society. For West Virginia enjoys the unhappy distinction of having the highest unemployment in the nation.

The causes are various. Automation is one: as much coal was produced in 1959 as in 1958 by 10,000 fewer miners. The state is suffering from change-over pains as it turns from coal to glass and chemicals. Small business and small farmers have their troubles in the southern counties.

Many young people are moving away. When West Virginia gave its Korean war veterans a bonus, 40 per cent of the checks were mailed to out-of-state addresses.

The delegate profit to the primary victor will not be particularly significant. Only 25 votes are involved, and the primary does not even bind the delegates. Also, the state is fourth from the last on the roll of the states. Some of the leaders say candidly that they would expect the delegation to caucus just before it is reached on the first roll call, and then leap for whatever bandwagon seems to be rolling the fastest with the mostest.

Still, it is a popularity contest which might afford the loser in Wisconsin a chance to recoup. This is the more true since the Nebraska primary takes place the same way, offering the possibility of a double win to salve Wisconsin bruises.

West Virginia observers now expect a close race between Kennedy and Humphrey, with labor possibly leaning toward Humphrey. The state has a Protestant Bible belt, but this is counterbalanced by heavily Catholic parishes in the vicinity of the steel mills.

United Mine Workers leaders are said to be cool to both senators. But there is recent evidence that devoted as the miners are to their militant union, they do not always vote the John L. Lewis way. In 1958, Lewis opposed Jennings Randolph in the Democratic senatorial primary, but Randolph won and was elected.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Campaign Features Tranquilizers

WASHINGTON — For all the thousands of words spoken before congressional committees and the hot debate in print, the cool judgment of those who will direct the Republican campaign in the fall is that defense and national security will not be a significant issue.

The reason is not hard to find. In the White House is a military man with a towering reputation who led the allied forces to victory in World War II. The words of his critics, even when they are documented by top men out of his own administration, do not get through this barrier.

Among both the President's critics and his hero-worshippers there is professed puzzlement over why his popularity should be so high in the polls. Isn't it extraordinary, incredible, they say, that his rating should be 72 per cent, at least 12 to 15 points above his low of the 1957-58 recession?

There is nothing in the least mysterious about it. The President is saying just what most of his fellow-citizens want to hear. This is that we are spending enough to give the nation security in all the areas that really matter; that our freedoms and our spiritual values give us an edge that is bound to keep us ahead of atheistic, materialistic communism. We are prosperous and if only the Congress follows the Eisenhower budgetary formula we should have a surplus this year with a possible tax cut next year.

From the sounding board of the White House, far and away the most powerful amplifier in the country, that is the philosophy constantly reiterated. It is expressed by a friendly, warm-hearted man whose homely and often awkward and imprecise use of the English language, far from offending the average citizen, probably serves to endear him more.

Add to this that the critics of the missile and space programs are divided as to what is wrong and what to do about it. The result is a confusion of tongues, echoing the President's press conference remark that there are too many generals around here with all sorts of ideas, most of them parochial in viewpoint. Going behind the headlines involves exploration of a world the average reader must feel is beyond him. After all, the President should know.

Vice-president Nixon himself adds one very important qualification to the conviction that defense will not be an issue in the fall. If the Russians come up with another spectacular achievement, such as the Lunik shots and the photography of the far side of the moon, the public may be really aroused. And this will be especially true against the barrage of criticism that has been laid down.

Furthermore, there is a great likelihood this will happen. For some time scientists here have believed that the Soviets could send a man into space and they have expected an announcement of such a success. Several unconfirmed reports out of Moscow have told of attempts that failed.

Merely to send a man into space and then bring him back might not produce a shock effect. The United States is moving toward a similar achievement. Sending a space man into orbit would be more impressive. Landing instruments on the moon would be a real shocker, as would the orbiting of a satellite with equipment for photographing every corner of this planet and transmitting the results back to Moscow.

But even with such sensations timing is a factor in calculating the emotional and political consequences. The public has shown a great capacity to recover from an initial shock reaction. This has been helped along by the counter propaganda put out by the administration. Thus when the first Sputnik penetrated outer space promotion figures dismissed it as a stunt, implying that to compete in an outer-space basketball game would be beneath America's dignity.

A new breakthrough in May or June might pass out of the public consciousness by the time the campaign begins. But a sensational achievement in October would be something else again. This suggests the power the Soviets have — regardless of whether they consciously use it or not — to influence the American election.

Whatever his private opinions may be, Nixon must champion the administration record on defense along with everything else, and this helps to explain why he is working so hard at creating the identity of the virtuous Eisenhower heir.

On February 18 he is going out to Squaw Valley for the opening of the winter Olympics. While he has never been a skier, those who have followed his career are giving odds that he will be able to show some form on the gentler slopes.

Highway Deaths

Howells, Neb.
At long last came the moment of respite from recording of highway deaths. There were a few, but we have gone through a record month. Of course we had a lot of help from Jack Frost. He alone, besides the medal winners, seems to be able to stop the high-tension boys from showing the gals their stuff. But we paid dearly in other ways for Mr. Frost's intervention.

As to the award for safety tendered to Nebraska, we did not deserve it. But we will this coming year. 1958 was the worst year by far on record. To compare records with its widely published 346 fatalities is childish and shows lack of vision. It may be argued that the hospitals turn in late instances of fatal accidents. Some of us are serious about these deaths and do not favor "fudging" the figures to suit certain fancies. Let the award be an "E" for effort. Many people did try hard to make headway against odds.

WALTER GABRIEL

Royal Names

Lincoln, Neb.
Not long ago the newspapers here and abroad were criticizing an intelligent, handsome young man for taking his forthcoming fatherhood too calmly, as he enjoyed a hunting trip some 120 miles from the people's queen, his wife. The Daily Express writer, Shirley Lowe, feared it would set a precedent dangerous to British womanhood.

The least of fathers in England have more to plan for, to be pleased about than Prince Philip. He doesn't even have the credit of parenthood in name. In spite of tradition, it must be a low blow for a man's children not to bear his name. It was bad enough he was not given the title of king to his queen, but must walk "below" and "behind" Her Majesty. Who would want to play second fiddle to a queen?

To us it is quite amusing and pathetic that the queen has declared this child to be born will bear the father's name "Mountbatten" as a middle name to Windsor, which is the name of the royal house established by Queen Elizabeth's grandfather. This means if the child is a boy, he and his grandchildren will bear his father's name indirectly. If a girl, I gather that even it will be lost to her husband.

This gesture of including the father's name does not seem to include his firstborn son and daughter, which certainly must be an unconsoled inner hurt for any man. This is sort of a third-choice appeasement and most unsatisfactory any way one might choose to stack it.

ANITA CLARK

Child Support Laws

Lincoln, Neb.
In my opinion, young Mr. Graves needs a corps of assistants before he even opens the first file on fathers who choose to reject their father role. This is surely one of the most neglected responsibilities of our society. My point can best be made by listing a few pertinent facts from my own case, a case extending over 14 years and involving three children.

The father is over $10,000 in arrears. This "father" once moved in legal circles and has used all the tricks he picked up from contacts made then to confuse authorities who are aware of this but have allowed him to get by.

As the mother, I've received far less than would have to be paid domestic help to care for three children. My children and I are weathering the storm but I feel that it is criminal for men to be allowed to lower the standing of living of the children they father. Society wants highly trained young people and college seems out of the question for my three only because the laws governing payments of child support are not enforced.

There is a crying need for an awakening on the part of the American people to the pathetic situations that exist. Here is a golden opportunity for the newspapers to do a humanitarian service and perhaps as a result arouse the public to such a degree of indignation that they will insist that Mr. Graves be provided with assistance sufficient to carry out a task, not just make a study.

It is well to express appreciation for publicizing the good. Pre-announcements and follow-up articles of the Alcohol Clinic and annual meeting of the Temperance League of Nebraska showed a public concern for the educational and legislative programs of the league. "About two hours ago I locked up a man of that description for loitering."

Curtain Closed On McCarthy And His Era; Others In Cast Have Slipped From Spotlight

By Sam Fogg
United Press International
"I have here in my hand," the speaker said—and the words that followed lit the fuse on a political skyrocket that was to burn its way across the American scene for more than 7 years.

It was exactly 10 years ago. A relatively obscure senator was making a Lincoln Day speech to the Ohio County Women's Republican Club in Wheeling, W. Va.

What he held in his hand, the senator was quoted as saying, was a list of 205 State Department employees known to the Secretary of State "as being members of the Communist Party and who nevertheless are still working and shaping the policy of the State Department."

This was the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.). By the time of his death, he had given his name to an era and clashed with presidents, cabinet members and Communists. He also had been condemned for his conduct by a formal vote of the Senate.

Impact Delayed
McCarthy's Wheeling speech made only a minor ripple. But on the next two nights—in Salt Lake City and Reno—he repeated his general accusation and the story began to snowball.

A week later, McCarthy held the Senate floor from mid-afternoon until nearly midnight, citing his case in detail. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee directed Sen. Millard Tydings (D-Md) to hold hearings.

From that point on, McCarthy held the center of the political stage.

He accused a Johns Hopkins University professor, Owen Lattimore, of being "the top Russian espionage agent" in this country. He helped defeat Tydings for reelection. He was a potent political factor in 1952 when the Republicans won the Senate and Dwight D. Eisenhower swept to the presidency.

Aides Gain Fame
As chairman of the Senate Investigations Committee, McCarthy presided over a series of explosive hearings into communism. The names of two of his key assistants—Roy Cohn and David Schine—became familiar to millions at home and abroad.

He told Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, commanding officer at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., he was "a disgrace to the uniform." At issue was the fact that a New York dentist, Irving Peress, had been promoted to major before his discharge, even though he had been accused of communist leanings.

The Army accused Cohn of trying to coerce favored treatment for Schine, who was drafted as a private. McCarthy countered with the statement that Schine was being held "hostage" by the Army to cut off his probes.

Welch In Arena
Ray Jenkins, a Knoxville, Tenn., attorney entered the scene as counsel for the special Senate investigation that ensued. A Boston attorney, Joseph Welch, dueled with McCarthy as Army counsel.

The senator's impact on the national scene has diminished since his condemnation by the Senate and his death in 1957. But most of those who came into the spotlight with him are still around.

Lattimore is still teaching at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore and shuns publicity.
Cohn, now in private law practice in New York, is an organizer of a group that has the inside track on staging the return heavyweight title bout between champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson.

Schine, now out of the Army and married to a former "Miss Sweden," has gone back to his family's hotel operations.

Welch has won plaudits for his performances on television and on the screen. He devotes his time to "some law, some television and some nice loafing." He declines to comment on McCarthy.

Jenkins, again practicing law in Knoxville, recalls the senator as "one of the most dynamic men I have ever met. I was fond of him personally. His courage was unlimited. If he had been able to control his tongue, he would have gone down in history as one of our great men and could possibly have been president."

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, who as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations was one of McCarthy's earliest targets, teaches international law at Columbia University. "I look back on the McCarthy era as a period of momentary political sickness in the United States from which the United States has now happily recovered," he comments.

Tydings is retired to Maryland country life. Of his old foe, he says: "He was censured by the Senate and that's a good indication of what they thought of him."

Dentist Peress has an office at a good address just off Fifth Avenue in Manhattan.

Asked for his comment on McCarthy and his era, Peress declared hotly: "I won't say anything to anybody." Then he hung up.

...RURAL-URBAN SPLIT IN USE

By Don Walton

Gov. Ralph Brooks said Tuesday the State Highway Advisory Commission's recommendation to split Interstate Highway funds on a rural-urban basis constitutes an endorsement of the policies the State Department of Roads is already following.

The governor's statement left no doubt but that Brooks will affix his approval to the commission's proposal which in effect would result in actual construction during the next 4 years closely similar to that already programmed.

Brooks also disclosed that he is contemplating a request to the Highway Department to submit an Interstate progress report to the commission every 3 or 6 months.

Split Paralleled

Meanwhile, Acting State Engineer John Hossack noted that the plan to split Interstate funds on an annual basis of 77% for rural construction and 23% for urban work "closely parallels what was already anticipated."

The only possible change during the next 4 years, Hossack said would be slight and could involve "a little less" work in Omaha.

If the 77-23 split is adopted as a firm policy by Brooks, Hossack said, "it is likely that we will be under-allocated in urban areas up to June 30, 1960."

Can Catch Up

However, the flexibility involved in adoption of the proposed formula would allow the Highway Department to "catch up" on urban work during the next fiscal year.

Brooks' statement:

"The Highway Advisory Commission has found that the State Highway Department and the administration have been operating in such a fashion that the commission wants to endorse it and has recommended its continuance as a matter of policy.

"I understand that the recommendation does not involve any changes in present urban or rural priority construction schedules and that the work will go forward substantially as we have programmed it.

"In considering this recommendation, I am also contemplating a request to the Highway Department to furnish the Highway Advisory Commission with a quarterly or semi-annual status report of Interstate Highway programming in all phases of engineering, right-of-way and construction."

The governor's recommendations are expected in the next few days.

Police Investigating $353 Theft From Car

Police Tuesday were investigating the theft of $353 worth of merchandise from the car of a Lincoln man while it was parked at the Hollywood Bowl parking lot at 920 No. 48th Monday night.

Joseph L. Carlson of 5040 Everett reported someone broke the vent window of his car and reached in and unlocked the car door. He said 23 wrist watches, 24 billfolds, several display cases and other items were stolen.

Influenza Hitting Many NU Students

The University of Nebraska is running a high incidence of influenza, but it is still far below epidemic proportions, Dr. S. I. Puenning, Health Center director, reported Tuesday.

He said there have been about 15 influenza patients in the 32-bed hospital every day since last Thursday, keeping the hospital filled to capacity. A total of about 40 to 50 cases among about 7,000 students have been treated.

Dr. E. A. Rogers, state health director, said the A2 or Asian strain of virus is suspected, but the state laboratory has not yet determined the type.

The disease is marked by a "sudden onset" which in some victims is "quite prostrating," Dr. Rogers said. The main symptoms are sore throat, body aches and headache. It usually lasts 3 or 4 days.

Dr. Rogers said the incidence of the disease has also been reported higher than normal in other parts of the state.

Two livestock research men from the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture will appear on the program.

Dr. John Matsushima, associate professor of animal husbandry, will speak on "Feeds and Feeding."

Dr. George Young, chairman of veterinary science will discuss "Research Toward Control of Animal Diseases."

All interested livestock men are invited to attend the meeting, according to Walter Meinberg and Clifford Reiling, co-chairmen of the clinic, who are cooperating with the Seward County Extension Service.

Articles of incorporation were filed Tuesday by the Ashcraft Co., Inc. of Clearwater, with authorized capitalization of $75,000. Incorporators are Lloyd Ashcraft, Maude Ashcraft, Eric E. Minich and Maude Maxine Minich.

Women Voters Present Booklet To County Board

Copies of a 39-page booklet on county government were presented to County Board members Tuesday by representatives of the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Harry W. Hust of 379 So. Cotner, league president, and Mrs. Bernard Kreissman of 3019 Plymouth, told the commissioners the booklet is the result of a 5-year study of county government functions by the league.

Mrs. Kreissman served as chairman of the committee which prepared the booklet. The league will sell copies for 25c.

University To Use Pershing School

The University of Nebraska will hold a summer school session this year at the Pershing Elementary School. For the past 3 years the session was held at Eastridge Elementary School.

The Lincoln Board of Education approved the use of the building by the University at their regular meeting Tuesday.

The Pershing principal, Mrs. Loretta Mickle, will be in charge of the session and the University will staff and pay for all custodial services required and assume responsibility for school property.

BOGAR PLACES 6 LHS BOYS ON PROBATION

The two Lincoln High School varsity basketball players involved in a fight after Friday night's game with Southeast High were booted from the basketball squad Tuesday for the remainder of the season.

Lincoln High Principal William Bogar said Sam Zollcoffer, 18, of 2291 W. and Bobby R. Williams, 17, of 1905 Vine, are among 6 LHS students who have been placed on "strict probation" as a result of after-game incidents.

Bogar said conditions of the probation include a ban on participation in any extra-curricular activities and the students also are forbidden to attend night athletic functions such as basketball games.

Plead Guilty

Zollcoffer and Williams both pleaded guilty Monday in County Court to assault and battery charges and were fined $20 each. They admitted assaulting a Southeast student, John McIntyre, 17, of 2020 So. 33rd.

County authorities are considering filing charges against several other youths in connection with the incident.

Bogar said two of the other 4 students placed on probation are members of other athletic teams. One is on the varsity gymnastics squad, he said, and the other is on the sophomore basketball team.

Only 3 Charged

Zollcoffer, Williams and James D. Dickerson, 17, of 328 So. 20th, are the only ones of the 6 students who have been charged in court. Dickerson has pleaded innocent in Municipal Court to disorderly conduct and abusive language charges in connection with his after-game conduct.

City Prosecutor Thomas Gorham said a disorderly conduct charge filed against another Lincoln High student, Michael J. Haynes, 16 of 1501 Burr, will be dismissed. He said further investigation revealed Haynes, although involved in a fight, was not the aggressor in the affair.

Haynes was erroneously identified in a previous story as a Southeast High student.

"Senior," said the Maya Indian, "these coins are genuine. Look at the date: 1731. These others"—he waved a hand disparagingly at the array of carved stone Maya heads and carefully cracked flukes—"these are falsified ones. I admit it. But the coins, Senior, are real."

"How does it happen, then, that they have rings for the ears on them?"

"The ancient Spanish ladies wore them, $5?"

"I will give you two."

"Senior! They cost me $3.75. Discovered by a wild Maya Indian from the hills in the ruins of Antigua. First capital. Home of the Captains-General. The Most Loyal and Noble City of St. James of the Gentlemen on Horseback of Guatemala. $4.50?"

We settled for $4. The coins were like those you see in the museum. The earring pair were so similar that even the worn places were the same. I have been trying to find where they cast them. But the Indian salesmen will not blow the whistle on their racket.

right if you don't see them in advance.

The iguana is a gray, tropical lizard. Running up to two feet long.

The basketful of slate reptiles slithered rather horribly. In the meantime, the lady took a short ax and began chopping up a few cooked iguanas. She sold the pieces, wrapped in banana leaf.

We drove up through the pine trees and the road rolled out on the side of the volcano and you can look down on the city. Founded by Cortez's fierce lieutenant, Pedro de Alvarado.

Built in the Spanish manner of enduring stone by slave Mayas. Raised in 1543 to the glory of God and of Spain: "Muy Noble y Muy Leal Ciudad de Santiago de los Caballeros de Goathemala."

The Indians with the production-line antiques and the silver coins are in the courtyard of the great ruins of the monastery of San Francisco.

They sold cracked heads of Maya gods.

They sold little silver images of a Maya god they called "Superman."

They sold Indian hose flutes and paper knives in sheaths, labeled: "Souvenir of Guatemala. Land of Eternal Spring."

They all had handfuls of silver coins. Battered, worn and guaranteed the equal of any in the museum.

I bought the silver earrings of coin material.

Another Indian tried to sell me a Spanish coin dated in the 1700s.

He had a handful he swore were genuine. Among them—guaranteed to be of the most noble, most loyal and most ancient—he had a Roosevelt dime.

The first capital (now known as Antigua) is a wonderful mass of ruins from the terrible earthquake of July 29, 1773. It destroyed cathedrals, stone palaces, great convents.

Today, Antigua is a city of some 50,000 people, living in one-story Spanish-style houses among the splendid ruins of the past. A few Americans have retired here. (I got an estimated cost for two at $200 a month for everything.)

It is an hour's drive from Guatemala City.

We drove over through the Maya village of Palin. The market was on, under a 400-year-old, spreading ceiba tree. In a square that lay in front of the yellow church.

The Maya Indian women had their green, yellow and red fruits spread on matting on the ground. One lady had a basketful of live iguanas which, I suppose, taste all Missing Frogman A Russ Prisoner?

London (AP)—A British frogman who vanished while swimming near a Soviet cruiser in 1956 may still be alive and a prisoner of the Soviet Union, a London publisher said Tuesday.

The frogman, Royal Navy Cmdr. Lionel Crabb, dived near the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze in Britain's Portsmouth Naval Base 4 years ago. He has since been officially listed as missing, presumed drowned.

The British publishing firm of Neville Spearman, Ltd., said a secret dossier smuggled out of the Soviet Union proves Crabb was captured as he swam around the cruiser. The firm is bringing out a book about Crabb in a few months.

Neville Armstrong, director of the firm, said the dossier showed Crabb was taken aboard the cruiser and later flown by helicopter to Stettin, in Poland, and then taken to Russia.

"Its authority is absolutely genuine," Armstrong said.

Government Mum

British officials, including the Foreign Office, declined comment.

The publisher said that underground agents who brought the dossier out of Russia refused to give it to British officials because of previous attempts to hush up the affair.

Crabb's mysterious disappearance, during a visit to Britain by Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev, set off a round of speculation and criticism in the British press and Parliament.

Crabb is widely believed to have been on an underwater spying mission. British government officials have refused to give any information on the affair.

Two years ago, the headless corpse of a frogman was washed shore on the coast of southern England. So far as is known, it was never identified.

CHADRON SQUELCHES ABANDONMENT RUMOR

... In Airline Opposition

Chadron (AP)—Chadron used plain language Tuesday in attempt to squelch what they said were rumors that Chadron is abandoning its opposition to the suspension of service over the northern route across Nebraska by Frontier Air Lines.

The city and Chamber of Commerce officials said they had heard rumors apparently emanating from Denver, Frontier's headquarters, to the effect that both Norfolk and Chadron, who will have air service on other routes, were prepared to agree with Frontier's position that service on the northern route should be abandoned.

These alleged rumors were flatly denied Tuesday in a meeting with Vern Carlson, Frontier district sales manager from Denver.

Misrepresented

"It appears that our attempts to be friendly and try to understand the problems involved in the northern route have been used by Frontier Airlines officials to misrepresent Chadron's position in this case," Mayor Harold Clark said.

"At this time I would like to make Chadron's position clear to all persons concerned. Chadron not only wants the northern route continued but will use every means available to them to see that it is continued," he said.

Carlson said to his knowledge the company had not used Chadron's attempt to be friendly in the manner suggested by Clark. But he added that he felt Chadron should be more concerned about the continuation of air service in general than to concentrate on the east-west route.

Caused By Brochure

Chadron sources said the rumors apparently were connected with a brochure of letters from satisfied customers of Frontier, which was presented to Frontier President Lewis B. Maytag Jr., at a recent Chamber of Commerce meeting.

In describing its application to the Civil Aeronautics Board for authority to suspend the route Frontier pointed out that Chadron would have direct connections to Lincoln and Omaha via Alliance over Frontier's central Nebraska route. Norfolk would continue to have daily round trip service to Omaha from North Central Airlines.

Tuesday's meeting ended with Frontier's decision to press for suspension of the northern route unchanged, and Chadron officials still opposed to the move.

Leased School Land Interest Resolution OK'd

Alliance (AP)—The Panhandle County Officials Assn. meeting Tuesday in Alliance passed a resolution asking that the tax commissioner set the value of interest in state school lands as the amount paid per year by the owner of the lease and that leases not be taxed retroactively.

The resolution, offered by Leslie Stull of Alliance, was passed unanimously by the 90 some county officials from 10 Panhandle counties who attended the meeting.

A spokesman for the association said only 1/4th or 1/3rd of the counties in the state have been taxing the leases as property, although a law taxing the leases is on the books.

School land sections are leased for 6% of the value per year. The value is established by the state board of school lands and funds.

State Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson and Robert Conrad, an aide to Gov. Ralph Brooks, were forced by the weather to cancel their appearances at the meeting. Speakers at the session included: District Judge A. W. Crites of Chadron, former District Judge E. L. Meyer of Alliance, president of Greater Nebraska Interstate Inc.

Molest Reported

A 12-year-old boy was referred to county juvenile authorities after police said a 7-year-old girl reported he molested her in an alley near 11th and B while she was on her way home from school. The boy denied bothering the girl, police said.

OAS Go-Ahead Seen For Dominican Probe

Washington (AP) — Venezuela appeared Tuesday to have won a victory in its bid for an investigation of alleged violations of human rights in the Dominican Republic.

A precedent-making probe by the Inter-American Peace Committee is indicated.

The Venezuelan request for an investigation, made Monday to the council of the Organization of American States, was the subject of a 2½-hour discussion by the council's General Committee Tuesday.

At the end, the Committee named a 5-nation working group to prepare a draft resolution. The group is composed of Argentina, the United States, El Salvador, Peru and Brazil.

The resolution, still subject to approval by the General Committee and then by the OAS council, reportedly will suggest that the Venezuelan request go to the Inter-American Peace Committee.

At the same time, sources said, it will express the council's concern over alleged violations of human rights, and reaffirm past pronouncements urging observance of such rights.

The Peace Committee has authority to investigate under a resolution approved by the Western Hemisphere foreign ministers at a meeting in Santiago, Chile, last August. But it cannot enter the Dominican Republic without permission of the government there.

There was some speculation, however, that the Dominican Republic—which has denied the Venezuelan charges—might be agreeable to an on-the-spot investigation.

What is apparent now is that the Peace Committee, even if it is not permitted to send representatives into the Dominican Republic, will collect evidence—perhaps from Dominican exiles—for its report.

Asked About Two Demos

Halleck was asked if he referred to Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) in accusing Democratic presidential candidates of using the defense controversy to grab headlines.

"You know who they are," Halleck replied.

He commented that Eisenhower was not running for the presidency this year but that apparently many other candidates are.

Johnson and Symington, both unannounced contenders for the Democratic nomination, have been outspoken in their criticism of Eisenhower defense policies.

Rep. Brock Mails Questionnaires To His Constituents

Washington — Rep. Larry Brock of the 3rd District has mailed some 75,000 post card questionnaires to constituents in his district.

The cards contain 12 questions on legislative matters.

The questionnaires were mailed with equal distribution to rural routes, boxholders and city addresses, the Wakefield Democrat said.

Meanwhile, Brock charged that the rapid growth of the Federal Aviation Agency is "galloping bureaucracy at its best."

The government spent $245 million to administer the functions of civil aviation in 1957, Brock said. The FAA's 1961 fiscal year budget asks $681 million, the congressman pointed out.

SICK OF IT ALL

A Detroit humane society seeks the answer to a pathetic problem, namely this unnamed dog. Found by the side of a road, he is inconsolable. Officials fear he will die if his owner is not found soon. Occasionally he drinks water. But he won't eat. Not even dog biscuits tempt him. "We've never seen a case like this," said Mrs. Karl Kocher. "He looks up so hopefully when people come in, as if searching for someone. When he sees strangers, his head falls to his chest and he sinks to the floor in grief. He's the most pathetic dog I ever saw."

Nelson Files For Railway Commission

Neil "Rusty" Nelson of Lincoln announced Tuesday that he will file as a Democratic candidate for the State Railway Commission.

He seeks the post now held by Republican Commissioner Richard Larson who has filed for re-election to a 4th term.

Nelson, 35, is a native Nebraskan. He served as a combat veteran in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Employed in the transportation industry in Nebraska since 1946, Nelson is presently serving as manager for Petersen and Petersen, Inc., a post he has held for 9 years.

He resides with his wife, Margaret, and their two children—Michael, 8, and MerriBeth, 4—at 1835 So. 51st.

"I feel that my many years of experience in industry governed by this office which I seek is valuable and will benefit the people of our great State of Nebraska," Nelson said.

Railway commissioners are elected for a 6-year term. The commission generally supervises the regulation of rates, service and general control of common carriers.

NWU Students Hear Speech On Marriage Needs

"Basic principles" of a successful marriage were outlined for Nebraska Wesleyan University students Tuesday evening by the Rev. Henry Hitt Crane of Detroit.

He listed: Recognition — that genuine love is basically a quest for God.

Unselfishness—losing one's self in the other.

Perspective — learning to distinguish between the essential and the non-essential. Loyalty—thinking always in terms of the beloved.

Idealization—having an attitude toward sex similar to civilized man's cultured attitude toward eating.

Wednesday and Thursday he is scheduled to discuss the problems of segregation, suffering, survival and success.

THE SMOOTHEST STREET IN TOWN

...IS THE ONE UNDER A BUICK '60

IF YOU WERE CONVINCED that the Buick '60 was the best-riding car in America . . .

AND YOU WANTED TO DESCRIBE this uncommon characteristic to other people . . .

DO YOU THINK YOU COULD DO IT nearly so effectively as a little ride around the block in the Buick could do it?

NEITHER DO WE . . . we don't know which is the best-riding car in America, but it must be a dandy if it rides any better than BUICK'S ALL-TIME BEST. You pick out the roughest street you can find and then call your nearest Buick dealer for a demonstration ride over it. The combination of deep-coil springs at all four wheels, front and rear ride-stabilizer bars and Buick's noise-baffling Torque Tube will make you think it's the smoothest street in town. Your dealer's number is in the Yellow Pages.

THE MANUFACTURER'S SUGGESTED RETAIL PRICE FOR THIS BUICK LE SABRE TWO-DOOR SEDAN WITH HEATER AND DEFROSTER, SONOMATIC RADIO WITH MANUAL ANTENNA, AND WHITEWALL TIRES IS LESS THAN $3000*. Standard equipment on this popular model includes MirroMagic instrument panel • Direction signals • Fin-cooled brakes with aluminum drums on the front wheels • Electric windshield wipers • Instrument panel safety padding • and trip mileage indicator.

Fun News May Be Found Everywhere

—There is fun news everywhere, it seems, and we are especially interested in what is going on in New York City on Friday, Feb. 26, for one very charming reason —Mrs. Frederick Hanson—the former Janet Caldwell

Coed To Wed In May

MISS JANICE LOUISE MACK

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Mack of Wymore make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janice Louise, to Lyndon Victor Hanson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon V. Hanson of Pierre, S.D.

The wedding is planned for Monday, May 30, and the ceremony will be solemnized at St. Mary's Church in Wymore.

Miss Mack will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Mr. Hanson is a student at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, and where he is a member of the Junior American Institute of Architects.

Saddle Club Plans Party

Lincoln Saddle Horse Club has a Valentine party — a chili feed and square dance, planned for Saturday evening, Feb. 13, at the club house. The affair is for members of the Saddle Club and their guests.

The committee making arrangements is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vorhees and Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Ackerman. Thirty couple are expected to attend.

George Turner III, is president of the club.

of Lincoln, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Caldwell.

Mrs. Hanson, so the story goes, has been chosen one of five candidates for Queen of the Mardi Gras—and the Mardi Gras is a Junior League of New York event.

And there's more—Serving as Master of Ceremonies for this very fashionable event will be none other than Maurice Chevalier.

At the moment Dr. and Mrs. Hanson are vacationing in their new "holiday" home at St. Martin in the Leeward Islands, but they will return to New York in time for the ball when they will have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Walker of Darien, Conn. We have an interest in the guests, too—Mrs. Walker is the former Ruby Shellely of Lincoln.

—Busy days are ahead for Miss Janice Farrell of Omaha—Kappa Kappa Gamma at Nebraska—whose marriage to Pat Healey will take place on Mar. 5.

On Friday afternoon Mr. Healey's mother, Mrs.

George Healey; and his sisters, Mrs. David P. Weber and Miss Susan Healey, will compliment Miss Farrell when they are tea hostesses at the University Club. Sharing honors with the bride-elect at the 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock affair will be Miss Farrell's mother, Mrs. Chester Farrell, and her grandmother, Mrs. Roy M. Cathers, both of Omaha.

—And honoring both Miss Farrell and Mr. Healey on Saturday evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Desmond, Jr., who have invited a small group of guests for a canape party and supper at the home of Mrs. Desmond's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Skutt in Omaha.

—On next week's calendar is another courtesy for Miss Farrell—a luncheon on Tuesday for which Mrs. Richard Wilson and Mrs. Robert Barlow will be hostesses when they entertain at the University Club. Luncheon places will be arranged for 18, and the soon-to-be bride will be presented with a hostess gift.

SUBURBIA

COUNTRY CLUB MANOR

Dr. and Mrs. Leland Arnot were host and hostess on Saturday evening to the members of their dinner club.

Regular members of the group on hand for the dinner and bridge party were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Fritz and Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Overgaard, and guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shackelford.

A birthday celebrant on Monday, Feb. 8, was Ronnie Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Beck, Jr. To mark his ninth anniversary, Ronnie entertained six friends at a movie followed by a hamburger fry at his home.

Ronnie's guests included Mack Stewart, Robert Thornton, Buddy Olsson, Mark Stevenson and the host's brother, Larry.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Hear that a good old-fashioned jam session took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Brestel on Sunday afternoon. Five couples were invited to pool their musical talents for the get-together. The affair was followed by a buffet dinner.

INDIAN VILLAGE

A recent newcomer in the talcum powder set is Miss Anne Heitbrink who was born at Lincoln General Hospital on Friday, Jan. 29. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Heitbrink.

Anne's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heitbrink of Hickman, and Mrs. E. H. Hare of Lincoln is the maternal grandmother.

Cancelled

The LAFB Officers Wives luncheon scheduled for this afternoon at the Officers Club has been postponed until next Wednesday, Feb. 17.

—We turn our attention now to the four-year-old set—specifically one of its members — Michael Lawrie. Michael celebrated his fourth birthday anniversary on Tuesday when his mother, Mrs. Tom Lawrie, entertained eight of Michael's contemporaries at an 11:30 o'clock-to-1:30 o'clock party at home. Following luncheon the group paid a visit to a small boy's paradise—a fire station.

—And the nursery crowd has news this morning, also—it has to do with the arrival of Steven Charles Thoenes on Sunday, Feb. 7, at Lincoln General Hospital. Young Steven is the son of Capt. and Mrs. Henry C. Thoenes, and his mother is the former Lucia Ann Luchsinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Elmer Luchsinger of Schuyler, and Alpha Chi Omega at Nebraska. The family circle also includes Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Thoenes of Port Washington, Wis., the paternal grandparents, and Steven's older brother, Hank.

PTA Units Award Annual Honors

The Founders Day program of Saratoga PTA Tuesday afternoon was highlighted by the presentation to the school of a gift of library books in memory of the late Mrs. C. A. McMunn, president of the unit in 1920.

The gift was presented by Mrs. Harry Niederhaus (at left, above), PTA president, and accepted for the school by Mrs. McMunn's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Earle C. McMunn (center). At right is Mrs. Ervin Hanneman, PTA library chairman.

Mrs. Don Ditzler was in charge of the program, "It Could Be You," in which PTA Life Memberships were presented to Mrs. Niederhaus, Mrs. Dale Atkins, Mrs. Earl Atkinson, Mrs. C. W. Banks and Mrs. Victor Schaefer.

Honored with PTA Life Memberships by Capitol PTA Tuesday afternoon were (from the left) Mrs.

Leslie Johnston, president; Howard Mapel, school custodian; and Miss Helen Lund, sixth grade teacher.

Not pictured is Mrs. Lawrence Blum, also honored with a membership.

Dear Abby-- Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I met a girl who led me to believe that she would be all mine if I bought her what she wanted.

She made out a list of the things she wanted and I bought them for her. It set me back over $400. All this time she wouldn't even let me hold her hand.

Now she tells me that she is a "nice" girl and I should get lost because I am too fast for her. She's already worn the clothes I bought for her. What do I do now? Four hundred bucks is not hay.

DELL
DEAR DELL: Tough luck. If the four hundred bucks WERE hay you'd have had enough to eat all winter.

DEAR ABBY: We have an old maid sister who lives alone. She has so many cats and kittens we have never been able to count them. (None of them are housebroken.)

My sister says it's her home and her business. The problem is she used to give piano lessons but all her pupils have left her. Then she started going to their homes, but her clothes smelled so bad, they all quit her. Now she has no income. I begged her to give away her cats and come to live with me, but she accuses me of wanting a free baby-sitter. (My children are all grown.) When I bring her food she gives it to the cats. I'm afraid she'll starve herself. What can I do?

CONCERNED SISTER
DEAR SISTER: Your sister may indeed need a mental examination. When a person is incompetent to make decisions, he is told what to do—not asked. I urge you to get your sister to a doctor.

DEAR ABBY: I have something to say to that lady who signed herself FROM TEXAS. She said her husband leaves pennies on the hotel dresser instead of throwing them in the waste-paper basket. As she put it, "they weight down his pockets and tear the linings."

If this man will just look in the hotel lobby, he will find a little container with a slot where pennies can be dropped. He can help fight polio, cancer, heart disease, muscular dystrophy and one of dozens of other ailments. I'm sure his pennies would do more good there than in the waste-paper basket or on a hotel dresser.

FROM FLORIDA

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♣	Pass	1♦	Pass
3NT

Opening lead — queen of hearts.

Many declarers, when they see a line of play that is odds-on to make the contract, go ahead with it without bothering to look further for a still better method of play.

But the really fine player, always striving for perfection, does not settle for less than the very best method of play, the one that gives him the greatest chance to succeed.

Compare, for example, the way South played this hand with the way he should have played it.

He won the heart lead with the king, played a low diamond to the queen and another one back to the king. When East showed out on the second diamond, revealing the 4-1 break, there was no point to continuing diamonds.

So declarer, who had started with eight high-card tricks, tried to establish a ninth trick by leading the

A-K and another spade. But when this suit also broke badly, declarer was finished. He stayed put with eight tricks and went down one.

It was an unlucky hand for South. He had about a five-to-one chance to make the hand as he played it, but still paid off to the odds.

He should have taken out insurance against the possible 4-1 diamond break. There was a simple way to deal with possibility. After winning the heart he leads the king of diamonds.

As soon as both defenders follow suit, the contract becomes a certainty. He leads another diamond. Regardless of whether West follows suit, South ducks the diamond in dummy.

This play may cost him a trick if it turns out the suit is divided 3-2, but it has the more important effect of absolutely guaranteeing the contract, even if the suit is divided 4-1. Declarer becomes assured of four diamond tricks, which is all he needs to make three no-trump.

Played in this fashion, the probability of fulfilling the contract is about fifty to one. Only a 5-0 diamond division can defeat South. But even when this is the case he still has a favorable spade break to fall back on.

ASK— Dorothy Draper

The tea cart is back in a streamlined edition and how welcome it is. You can wheel your whole meal to the table at one time, and wheel a load of used dishes back to the kitchen (makes table work more fun!). Or it may serve as a portable bar.

One amateur artist I know who lives in a small apartment uses her tea cart (or whatever the modern version is called) as a portable wagon for her painting materials — just rolls it away in her closet when she isn't inspired by the muse.

A male photographic shutter-bug with no room for a darkroom uses a tea cart to hold all of his equipment, and after the dishes are done, he rolls his cart up to the kitchen sink and carries on with his hobby.

No wonder tea carts are having a revival!

Miss C. W. asks:

"A couple of years ago we moved into a model home. My room was furnished for boys. Since I'm only 14 I haven't funds or skill to do too much. I'd very much appreciate your help in feminizing my bedroom. My room is powder blue on three walls and mahogany paneling on one. It has two windows with yellow denim curtains. The spreads are the same. The furniture is maple. It consists of twin beds, chests and a desk. The rug is multi-colored and the ceiling is natural beams."

Dear Miss C. W.:
Why don't you get a 2" white eyelet embroidered ruffle (you can find them by the yard in the dime stores)? Sew this around the edge of your yellow denim curtains. If your money holds out (baby sitting and allowance) put the eyelet edging around your bedspread too. This will immediately give your room a pretty "girly" look. Then dig out your long-legged dolls, animals, and pile them and gay pillows on your beds. Have frilly lamp shades. Start collecting, and cover the mahogany paneling with a group of inexpensively framed pictures of subjects that appeal to you — lots of white mat showing to lighten the mahogany clock. This should do the trick!

B. B. asks:
"I have a large size drop-leaf coffee table. Please suggest something attractive to set on it, other than the usual ash tray or candy dish."

Dear B. B.:
There are any number of things — a bowl of fresh greens, a pot of flowers, books with attractive jackets, good magazines, a standing photograph of your favorite child, interesting pieces of pewter, china or other family bibelots, a wooden bowl of shiny red apples, a basket of nuts with a nut cracker. Enough?

... OMAHA RECRUITING BOOSTED

By Don Bryant

Cletus Fischer, a native Nebraskan and former Cornhusker football star, Tuesday was named an assistant coach on Bill Jennings' staff.

The announcement was made by Head Coach Jennings and Athletic Director Bill Orwig.

In naming the 33-year-old Fischer to the Husker staff, Jennings tabbed a standout athlete and a highly-successful high school coach who is familiar with Nebraska and Omaha, vital NU recruiting areas.

Fischer will come back to Nebraska from Midland, Tex., where he coached the high school team last fall. Prior to 1959 he coached Omaha South for 4 years and led the Packers to the top of the state prep heap.

Announcing Fischer's appointment, Orwig said:

"I'm pleased that Cletus Fischer is returning to Nebraska as a member of our coaching staff.

"Cletus brings with him a fine background of success as a player and as a coach. I am sure he will be helpful to our program."

The Saint Edward, Neb., native launched his career as a star Scarlet halfback in 1945 for George (Potsy) Clark, then played two seasons for Bernie Masterson, and wound up in 1948 again under Clark.

Following graduation he played defensive halfback for the New York Giants for one season before entering the coaching ranks.

St. Bon. South His first prep assignment was at Columbus St. Bonaventure where he stayed 5 years before moving to Omaha South.

Fischer is one of 4 brothers who achieved football fame at NU. Following Cletus was Kenny, then Rex made All Big 8.

Ironically, Cletus will be coaching the youngest of the Fischers at Nebraska this year. Pat, a Husker standout the past two years, will play his senior year next fall.

During his tenure at South, Fischer's teams won 25, lost 6 and tied 4 in 4 years, sharing the state crown with Creighton Prep in 1958. At St. Bonaventure, his teams won 34 and lost only 8. He was 4-6 at Midland last fall.

Married to the former Doris Mae Heller of DeWitt, Fischer is the father of 5 children.

He is expected to receive $8,000 at NU. At Midland, his 3-year contract called for $8,500.

Fischer is the second new appointee on the Nebraska football staff.

...Mullins, American Horse Lead 3rd Win

By Don Bryant

Two guys named Joe led Nebraska to its 3rd victory of the indoor track season Tuesday night, a 69-52 1/2 win over the Kansas State Wildcats.

Capt. Joe Mullins copped first in the 600 and 880, while Joe American Horse galloped Gardner's Stadium record in the 600. Gardner's mark is .06.8.

First Runs The 600 and 1,000 marks were run for the first time and became records.

All told, Nebraska won 9 events, while K-State picked up 5 blue ribbons.

It was a close battle during the early going. Nebraska held a slim lead of 31-2 to 31-1 after 7 events before Bob Knaub edged Wildcat Murry Corbin in the broad jump with a leap of 22-9 1/2.

13-6 Vault Jim Kraft, who took a 3rd in the broad jump, helped the cause by winning the pole vault in 13-6 for his first 1960 win.

Then came American Horse's 2-mile smash to put NU in front by 7 2-3 points with 4 events remaining.

NU Coach Frank Sevigne then had Mullins pass up the 1,000 and gave the job to Soph Dick Kier, electing to run Mullins against Wildcat stalwart Bob Groszek in the 880.

Kier triumphed by leading a slam with Jerry Marples finishing second and Bill Melody 3rd. Kier's time was 2:22.0, a record-starter.

That sweep put the Huskers on easy street and Mullins came through as expected by winning the half-mile in 1:57.7—just two-tenths off the mark—to cinch the third win.

American Horse's 9:32.2 in the double-mile was the only record broken during the stormy night which saw the crowd cut to about 200 diehards. It also fractured the NU school mark of 9:35.4, set in 1957 by Bob Elwood. Joe's mile time was 4:28.9.

Plainsmen Rip Dana, 117-52

Lincoln Star Special

Blair—Rudy Stoehr bombed the nets for 62 points as Nebraska Wesleyan ran away with a 117-52 decision over hapless Dana College Tuesday night.

Stoehr, riding in with all the ferocity of an accompanying mid-winter blizzard, rammed home 44 of his record total during second half of the debacle.

The victory advanced the Nebraska College Conference's front-runner to 12-1 in league play.

About the only record left standing was Wesleyan's high team score of 119 registered against York College in 1954.

Tall Rudy, totting a 23.4 point average entering the fray, struck with uncanny accuracy once given his head in the second half.

18 Of 20 Hit He found the mark on 18 of his 20 patented jump shots for 90 per cent accuracy.

He was only a little less sensational while registering 6 field goals and a like number of gifters during the opening 20 minutes.

Stoehr's total was the highest ever recorded in the NCC. It obliterated the record of 57 set by Peru's Omer Meeker against Midland College 9 years ago.

Mark Pressured Only last week Meeker's mark was pressured by the 52 counters credited to Doane College's Gene Velloff.

Stoehr's aggregate also wiped out the previous high Plainsmen individual total, that being Don Boldebeck's 47 against Chadron in 1953.

Stoehr's previous best outing was 43 against Winona (Minn.) State Dec. 1, 1959.

31 For 33 Wesleyan, pressed no closer than 29-20 with 4 minutes left in the first half, zeroed in on 31 of 33 gratis efforts while breaking another school record.

The old mark was 22-for-26 set Jan. 22 of this year at Wayne. The Lincolinites clicked at 56 per cent from the floor Tuesday night.

Wilt Sets New High For NBA

Detroit (AP)—Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain broke the National Basketball Association's all-time single season scoring record with a 41-point burst Tuesday night against the Detroit Pistons.

The Philadelphia Warriors lost the game 122-113.

The fabulous rookie now has scored 2,134 points, breaking by 29 the old record of 2,105 established last season by Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks.

Pettit set his record over a 72-game span. This was the Warrior's 58th game, so the 7-foot-2 phenom, only 22 years old, has 18 games in which to add to the record.

Chamberlain broke the record in the early moments of the second period with a jump shot from the key.

The game was stopped and Pistons' general manager W. Nick Kerbow presented Wilt with the basketball.

Wilt accomplished his feat under trying circumstances. Several of his teeth were jammed into his lower jaw when he was hit in the face Sunday at St. Louis.

He has eaten practically nothing since.

Chamberlain is the 3rd player to crack the 2,000-point barrier.

George Yardley was the first, scoring 2,001 points in the 1957-58 season with the Detroit Pistons. Pettit did it last year and Cincinnati's Jack Twyman has a good chance to do it this season.

Chamberlain also set a league rebounding record for one season. His 16 gives him 1,613 for the year, one better than the mark set last season by Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics.

Bill Weeks Elevated At New Mexico

Albuquerque—The University of New Mexico Tuesday elevated Billy Weeks to head football coach.

He had been a backfield coach under Marv Levy, who accepted the head coaching job at the University of California.

University regents were to meet Monday to formally confirm Weeks' appointment.

After graduating from Iowa State in 1951, the 30-year-old Weeks served two years in the Marine Corps and returned to Iowa State for a masters degree in psychology.

Gil Back With Bums Los Angeles (AP)—The signed contract of Gil Hodges, Los Angeles Dodger first baseman, arrived Tuesday from his Brooklyn home. The Dodger front office disclosed that Hodges will receive $39,000 for the 1960 season, the same as he got in 1959.

Eddie Erdelatz Picked To Head Oakland Club

Oakland, Calif. (AP)—California-born Eddie Erdelatz, who guided Navy football teams to victories over Army and in bowl games, was picked Tuesday to coach the Oakland pro team in the new American Football League.

San Francisco and east bay fans who h o w e d when the former St. Mary's grid star was passed by as coach at the University of California stirred with undisguised excitement over the appointment.

Oakland now is a team only in blueprint. It has 8 owners and a coach, but no name, no place to play, no talent scout, no coaching staff and no players.

Selection of Erdelatz completed the head coaching assignments in the new league.

Erdelatz, 45, had pro experience with the San Francisco 48ers of the National Football League as line coach before going to Navy in 1950.

He has yet to actually sign his contract with Oakland. That will come within a week. There was strictly unrecurrent reports it would be a two year agreement calling for around $25,000 a year.

Eldelatz said he already has one assistant practically signed up. He will go after others in the next few days.

Other standout performances in the OU-KU deadlock included: Mile — Gail Hodgson of Oklahoma won in 4:16.

NU's Cooper No Longer Top Indoor Pole Vaulter

By Don Bryant

Don Cooper of Nebraska no longer ranks as the best indoor pole vaulter in Big 8 track history.

While "Moose" never managed to win an indoor Big 8 crown—losing out his last two years to teammate Leonard Kehl of Scottsbluff—he did carve a niche by registering the highest indoor vault on record.

That was on April 7, 1951 when he soared 14-9 1/4 at Colorado during a dual meet good enough for a collegiate track record, bettering the 14-8 1/2 mark set by Don Laz of Illinois on Feb. 17, 1951.

Monday night at Lawrence, Kan., J. D. Martin of the University of Oklahoma dethroned Cooper in resounding fashion. The

Sooner junior—who last year joined Jim Graham and Aubrey Dooley of Oklahoma State to give the Big

8 a trio of 15-foot vaulters—became the first Big 8 vaulter to clear 15-feet indoors.

Sooners Tie Martin cleared 15-feet, 1/2 inch as the Sooners recorded a surprising 61-61 tie with the Kansas Jayhawks, long the kingspins of Big 8 track.

Cooper's Big 8 indoor record stood much longer than his NCAA record which he set in 1952 at the Kansas Relays on April 21, 1951.

That day Don, a native of York, Neb., soared 15-feet, 1/2 inch to become the first collegian to clear the 15-foot barrier. But his joy was short-lived.

Less than two hours later at Los Angeles, Laz—whose indoor mark had been smashed by Cooper—cleared 15-1 1/4.

COOPER ... 2nd best.

DISMISSAL FOR LINK CAGE DUO

Lincoln High eagers Bobby Williams and Sam Zollicoffer, both involved in fracas following a loss to Lincoln Southeast last week, have been dismissed from the squad.

Lincoln Principal William Bogar said Zollicoffer and Williams were among 6 LHS students placed on "strict probation" for post-game incidents.

Conditions of the probation, Bogar said, include banishment from all extra-curricular activities.

POINT BLANK

Sports Editor, The Star

Deep Six For Dee

Former Nebraska assistant Dee Andros must feel a little bitter these days.

Dee was the victim of a cruel hoax in regard to the head coaching job at California, vacated by ex-Nebraska headman Peter Elliott.

The Oklahoma round-man came to Nebraska as Elliott's aide and followed Pete to Cal a year later. When Elliott jumped to Illinois, Dee was listed as the top candidate for the head job at Berkeley.

Then came the rat race and Andros was caught up in the middle of a vicious squabble between the Cal administration and the Golden Bears' alumni.

Cal operates under the mixed up philosophy which allows the students and alumni a strong voice in athletic matters, with the result that there are usually more Indians than chiefs—a question of who is boss, that is.

The university brass gave their blessing to Andros, but the alumni faction strongly backed ex-Navy coach Eddie Erdelatz and applied a king-sized squeeze.

As the fight raged, Dee faded from the picture but still held a shred of hope. That hope mushroomed a couple of weeks ago when Bay area newspapers announced that Dee was "in," subject only to a final ratification of terms.

'Dee, Don't Go'

Reports from the coast say Andros had decided to withdraw his name and join Elliott at Illinois, but that the administration urged him to hang on because he was going to get the job.

So Andros stuck it out, only to get the rug jerked unceremoniously from under him when New Mexico's Marv Levy was given the post.

"I was flabbergasted by the announcement," Dee told the Associated Press. "Levy is evidently a fine coach, but I honestly never heard of him."

Most observers will agree with Dee that Levy is strictly from obscurity, with no offense meant toward New Mexico. But because Levy was unknown he was the ideal choice—a compromise candidate with whom the alumni couldn't find fault because they had not heard of him.

So Andros—who was assured he would get the job if he stuck it out—will now move to Illinois as one of Pete Elliott's 10 assistants, still trying to figure out who Marv Levy is and why he was given the double bunt.

Cal fans who were irked when Erdelatz was by-passed, meanwhile, can content themselves with the knowledge that the former Middle skipper will be working in the area—as coach of the Oakland team in the now-being-organized pro American Football League.

PS: Andros' loss was Nebraska's gain, since it was rumored that NU aide Dick Monroe might have been offered a spot on Dee's staff if the latter got the Cal job.

Slow Starter

Bennie Dillard—the fleet halfback rediscovered and returned to Nebraska from a West Coast junior college—may be a comet on the gridiron, but he's a slow starter in the academic race.

With 10 days of the second semester already elapsed, Dillard still hasn't started hitting the books. Reason? First a delay in his JC transcript, then the absence of his diploma—both necessary items for registration.

Big 10 Unlikely To Renew Pact

Chicago (P)—Some $300,000 yearly of Rose Bowl football money was slipping through the fingers of the Big 10 conference Tuesday.

In a second, last-ditch vote on whether to renew a contract for participation in the New Year's Day game in Pasadena, the Big 10 appeared evenly divided, 5-5.

A majority is needed to continue the series with the new Big 5—Southern California, UCLA, Washington, Stanford and California.

The old pact with the defunct Pacific Coast Conference expired with the 1960 game. Fourteen games were played, with the Big 10's only two losses by Wisconsin in 1953 and 1960.

Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Northwestern and Ohio State are against renewal of the rivalry. All but Northwestern have announced their stand publicly.

Northwestern's faculty athletic committee is to meet within the next two weeks for a formal vote, but a spokesman for the university said "there is no indication the school will change its view."

The official conference vote will be taken at the Big 10 meeting in Columbus, Ohio, March 3-5.

Grid Loops Put Clamps On Raids

Dallas (P)—Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League said Tuesday he had reached an agreement with both the National Football League and the Canadian Leagues that there would be no raiding of players.

Verifying a statement from Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the NFL, that they had held a meeting and decided there would be no tampering with players, Foss said he also had talked with commissioner Sydney Halter of the Canadian Leagues.

"We agreed on the same principles and moreover, Rozelle will confer with Halter to reach a similar agreement with the Canadian Leagues," Foss declared.

The AFL commissioner had just arrived in Dallas to find his views also were wanted on a report from Detroit that more than a dozen members of the NFL football team there had had discussions with other leagues since the 1959 season ended.

CINCY KEEPS TOP AP RATING SPOT

By The Associated Press
Oscar Robertson keeps on breaking basketball records and his team, Cincinnati, keeps on winning games. So the nation's sports writers and broadcasters keep on voting for the Bearcats as the No. 1 team even though Bradley and California also have impressive records.

These 3 teams, each with 17-1 records, again wound up in the 1-2-3 positions Tuesday in the weekly Associated Press Poll, based on results through last Saturday.

Cincinnati, with 88 first place votes out of 191 ballots, gathered 1,798 points on the usual basis of 10 for each first place vote, 9 for second, etc.

Bradley, Cincinnati's leading Missouri Valley Conference rival, drew 20 first place votes and 1,606 points. California's 1959 NCAA cham-

RECORDS NEED BROKEN—SEE O

Cincinnati (P)—Does anyone have any spare basketball records lying around he'd like to have broken?

The man to see is Oscar Robertson. In consecutive games last week he broke the major college 3-year and 4-year point-getting records.

Monday night, leading the University of Cincinnati to an easy 123-74 victory over North Texas State, he broke his own, the Cincinnati and the Missouri Valley Conference one-game records with 62 points. He hit an amazing 23 field goals in 29 shots.

That leaves Oscar just 23 field goals shy of the all-time major college career record set by Elgin Baylor at College of Idaho and Seattle with 956. Robertson now has 933.

The Fabulous Oscar's exhibition was electrifying.

In desperation, North Texas put 3 men on Oscar, and as he shifted, rolled the ball behind himself to score again and again, the crowd at times was almost hysterical.

One of the things which has captivated the fans through the Big O's career, was evident.

That was his team work. Even when he was approaching his all-time record, he passed off in consecutive plays to another Bearcat to make the basket.

As coach George Smith has said repeatedly, "He's a team man first."

Oscar raised his total points for less than 3 years to 2,662.

Income from the sweeper goes to the Lancaster County New March of Dimes fund. The event continues through Feb. 16.

GI's Ace Top Star Of Preps

By Al Beebe

Big Jack Juel was carrying only a 10-point per game average into last week's action for Grand Island. But his efforts in two games earn him The Star's "Basketball Player of the Week" award.

Juel neared a Big 10 scoring mark in the important Friday contest against Hastings, challenging for Eastern Division leadership.

Juel's 36-point show wrecked the Tigers, giving Grand Island a 69-60 triumph and a 5-0 mark in the conference.

Juel wasn't quite enough Saturday night in a 51-48 overtime loss at Lincoln Northeast, but his 20 points were still high for the game.

Juel and these other top stars will receive cards from The Star.

Lincoln Northeast—Bob Martin hadn't scored all year, but he hit 8 during win over Grand Island, including 4 in overtime.

Lincoln Southeast—Bob Cunningham ignited thumping of Lincoln High with first quarter work.

Lincoln University—Bruce Weeks' canned long final-second basket to top Crete, 42-40.

Lincoln High—Jim Scanlon's 28 points ripped North, 73-51.

Osceola—Bob Dinges' shot won Polk County title.

Auburn—Marvin Hopper paced upset of Falls City.

Dunbar—Jon Gorton beat Cook with half-court shot at the buzzer.

$56,000 Suit Filed By Crash Victim

A California resident has filed a $56,900 suit in U.S. District Court at Lincoln against Dennis E. Hiser and Grayborn Anderson, both of Valentine, Neb.

Lydia Duprat, 42, alleges she was injured July 26, 1958, when the car in which she was riding was in collision with a pickup truck on Hwy. 20 near Valentine.

Hiser is named defendant driver and Anderson as the owner of the truck.

Judgment sought includes $3,000 property damage and $3,800 for medical expenses.

nesota farmers produced 15% more hogs than in 1958 and received $46 million less for them."

"The poultry raisers and other farmers have like stories," he added.

Pearson told conference members that his state suffered a 20% loss in net farm income and that the farmers in his state needed decent prices for farm products if they were to remain in business.

A story of many farm sales in Iowa and foreclosures was told by the master of the Iowa Grange, Loren Murphy of Newton, Ia.

Many Sales

Murphy said, "We have auctioneers that are booked solid for farm sales until spring and in one county we have had 54 foreclosures where the farmers were advised to pay up while they could on chattel mortgages."

Ross Cumming of Wolsey, S.D. another State Grange Master echoed the reports of his neighboring states and said, "In addition we had a drouth and that 'really hurts' on top of low income and high prices."

In describing the deterioration of agricultural communities G.A. Spidel, master of the Nebraska State Grange told conference members, "47 counties in Nebraska have a total of 618 fewer businesses since 1950 and this will go on until something is done to interrupt the present situation."

Higher farm mortgages, declining income and the highest prices ever paid by farmers for the things they buy were all listed by Spidel as the things 'hurting agriculture'.

Wait And See

With an attitude of "Let's see if the administration really means it" the President's farm message, delivered Tuesday, was discussed by conference members.

The opinion was general that with the Grange, Farmers Union, Wheat Growers, Soybean and Corn Producers and many other farm bodies agreeing on basic farm legislation it would be hard for Washington leaders to say, "We will do something when the farm groups get together on legislation."

Grange members were planning to continue all efforts toward encouraging assistance for the nation's farmers.

"We need it immediately as even some of our very best farmers are in trouble," said Murphy.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONOID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONOID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONOID's unequalled rebulking action helps restore flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONOID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon. COLONOID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONOID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONOID today! Introductory size 43¢.

Rain, Wet Snow Temporarily Check Blowing Soil; Aid Pastures, Ranges

Wet snow and rain in central and western areas helped the agricultural cause in Nebraska last week, government crop observers reported Tuesday.

The moisture temporarily checked soil blowing and erosion which have been disturbing winter grain crops, and brightened prospects for ranges and pastures, according to the weekly crop review of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Soil blowing has been severe in some places and some acreage of winter wheat and barley has been lost, the report noted.

Last week's snow, ranging up to 10 inches in a few places, did not drift much and provided good cropland cover in sections where earlier snowfall had drifted considerably.

Field foraging and grazing has been restricted by snow for several weeks, cutting down on hay and forage reserves. Demand for hay has increased sharply and some local areas face a shortage, the division said.

Country roads, feedlots and farmsteads have turned soft and muddy in some areas, while elsewhere farmers and ranchers have continued to struggle with snowdrifts.

High moisture content of cribbed 1959 corn has caused a problem.

Milford Proud Of Teenagers' Near Flawless Driving Mark

By Gene Budig

Milford — Like most towns, Milford has a traffic problem. But unlike most towns, teenage driving is a small part of this problem.

In fact, Acting Police Chief Bill Rumlir lauded Milford's teenage drivers for their almost flawless driving record.

There hasn't been a traffic accident in the high school block for nearly 7 years, according to police records. The lone mishap involved adults.

This impressive record is no accident.

When School Superintendent L. H. Kuhre came here 9 years ago he brought a strong student-driving program with him.

The program, fast to win parental support, allows rural students to drive to and from school, but outlaws driving during the noon hour.

SUPT. L. H. KUHRE

Town students are prohibited to drive to school.

"If a rural student wants to go downtown during the lunch hour, he walks unless he has special permission to drive."

"We figure that if we keep the students off the streets during the noon hour, the traffic problem is almost whipped," Kuhre declared.

The safety-minded schoolman admitted that students at various times have opposed the program. "But they were quick to realize the program's merits," he said.

Also figuring in the low teen accident count is the school's driver education class. The class, offered to freshman and sophomores, meets twice weekly.

"Students enrolled in driver education are generally ready to receive their licenses when they get out," Kuhre noted.

Traffic court appearances of Milford high schoolers are rare, too.

Flouridation Issue Under Discussion

Hastings (UPI) — The pros and cons of flouridation of city water were discussed before a crowd of 350 persons at a City Council hearing.

Dr. Herbert Seberg, secretary of the Adams County Dental Society, led the supporters of a proposal to increase the flourine content of the city water supply.

Mrs. Lars Howland and Atty. Grace Simpson led the opponents.

Merrick Co. Ag Project Praised

Omaha (AP)—J. Leroy Welsh, who headed the President's commission on increased use of agricultural products, says the Merrick County Agricultural and Industrial Corp. has "the correct approach to the solution of our farm problems."

Welsh, an Omaha grain man, commended the corporation on its decision to survey, analyze and report on a proposed farm crops marketing plant.

The corporation is considering building a plant near Central City to find new industrial uses for farm crops.

Surplus Power Exchange Plan Headway Seen

Washington (AP) — Progress was reported Tuesday in efforts to work out an exchange of surplus power between the Reclamation Bureau and Nebraska agencies.

Lynn A. Monroe, executive assistant to the general manager of the Omaha Public Power District said:

"We have had a cold reception from the Bureau until recently but I think we are getting somewhere now."

Monroe told the weekly breakfast meeting of the Nebraska Congressional delegation he felt recommendations along this line in a recent consultant board's report to the Interior Department brought about the changed attitude.

He said the Omaha District and the Nebraska Public Power system have enough excess capacity to make up shortages for Bureau customers in 1963-1965.

"They have summer excess power because of navigation and we have winter excess through air conditioning and pump irrigation peak demands," Monroe said.

"The two fit like a glove." The Bureau recently was directed to study arrangements to permanently increase the supply of power by this exchange of excess summer federal hydro power for excess winter power available principally from Nebraska power bodies.

Others at the breakfast included Bill Richards, Orleans, Neb., recently re-elected president of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation districts; Cleon Pratt, Elgin, candidate for national junior vice command-in-chief, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; and Orie E. Adcock, Nebraska VFW commander.

Economic Aid, Population Hike At Odds—Dr. Fey

Ex-Lincoln Minister Declares Problem Runs 2nd To H-Bomb

North Platte (AP)—Dr. Harold Fey, editor of the Christian Century, told the annual Nebraska Ministers' Convocation Tuesday that economic aid cannot keep up with the population increase around the world.

He said that world-wide use of antibiotics and insecticides and the increase in death control which has been achieved by the medical profession has presented us with the inescapable fact that something must be done about the population explosion.

In an interview earlier he ranked this problem second only to the H-bomb.

Dr. Fey told the 300 visiting pastors and their guests that methods are in use in many countries to alleviate the problem and we need not accept as inevitable a standing-room-only condition.

(Dr. Fey is a former pastor of First Christian Church in Lincoln.)

"There is no objection on religious grounds in most countries to population planning," he said in comment on that controversial question. "The chief objection in the U.S. and in many Christian countries comes from Roman Catholic criticism of what is called artificial means of birth control, although birth control itself is not forbidden."

"A strong movement is under way to express to the U.S. government and the United Nations the Protestant belief that human health and welfare demand that assistance be given to the people of any country who voluntarily request assistance for means of population control," he said.

"Protestants are also insisting that the medical profession in the U.S. be left free to practice and give advice of their knowledge in relation to birth control," he added.

In an address to the group earlier Dr. Fey discussed "National Purpose and the Christian Mission."

"Today a great many people are rightly worried because the U.S. has lost the high sense of national purpose held by our fathers. We shrink behind our defense. We retreat from commitment, fear for our survival."

"While half of the world's population is sick, hungry and ignorant, the U.S. spends $40 billion annually for defense and $40 billion for after work hours desires. This is a terrifying indictment of our American way of life."

In closing he told his audience of more than 400, including ministers and guests, that what this nation must do is to unite our national purpose with the universal purpose of God, the salvation of mankind.

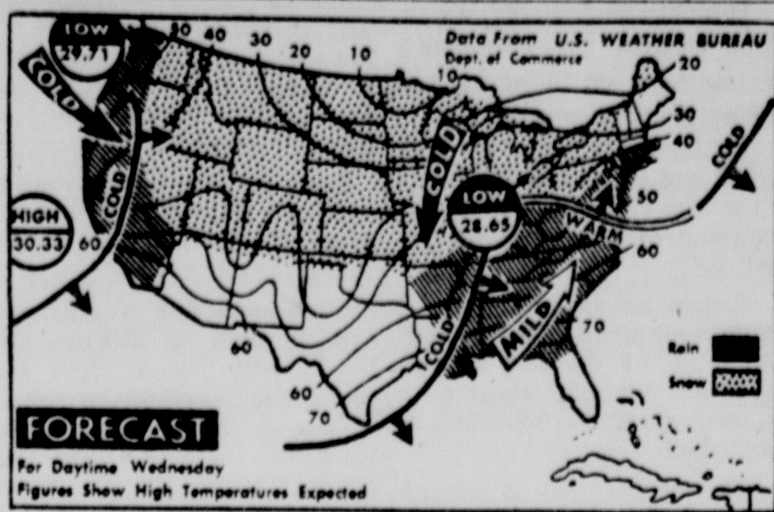

Dr. Fey has two additional addresses scheduled during the 3-day convocation. Wednesday he will share the platform with Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, interim bishop of the Federal Council of Churches; and Dr. Edward K. Stimson, pastor of Omaha's Dundee Presbyterian Church.

Seminar discussions also occupy an important role in the 3-day convocation.

Colder temperatures are due over the central part of the U.S. from the Lakes area and Gulf Coast to the eastern Rockies. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Bill Would Prohibit Rate Hike Till FPC Acts On Early Plans

... Gas Act Amendment Introduced By Brock

Washington (AP) — Congress was asked Tuesday to prevent natural gas firms from putting new rate increases into effect until the Federal Power Commission acts on the firms' previous proposals.

Rep. Larry Brock (D-Neb.) introduced a bill to bring this about through an amendment to the natural gas act. He said the introduction of his measure was prompted by 3 successive rate increases proposed by Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha. The FPC has not taken final action on any of the 3.

An FPC hearing opened Tuesday on Northern's proposal for a $9,800,000 annual wholesale rate boost which it now is collecting subject to refund.

Two other Northern rate cases also were put into effect, subject to refund, on Aug. 27, 1957, and Nov. 27, 1958. These proposals, for annual increases of $6,466,000 and $8,100,000 respectively, still are pending before the FPC.

Northern sells natural gas to 40 utility companies which in turn serve about 1,000,000 consumers in 400 midwestern communities.

Spokesmen for communities and utilities in Nebraska, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota and Wisconsin Tuesday opposed Northern's latest proposal at a hearing before FPC Examiner Harry Frazee.

After opening statements, Northern submitted about 1,000 pages of prepared testimony and exhibits from technical witnesses in support of its application.

"Rates Unreasonable" Lloyd Marti, speaking for the Central Electric & Gas Co., Lincoln, Neb., said the increases seem to be an annual affair and Northern now "is asking an unreasonable rate of return of 6 3/4%."

J. F. Kenney, of the Iowa Public Service Co., said the effect of the increases has been severe.

State Jaycees Honor 3 Men

Fremont — Jack Boyd of Holdrege, Byford Elwonger of Auburn and Jack Thorne of Hastings were recognized as the 3 outstanding young men of Nebraska during the winter quarterly conference in Fremont of the Nebraska Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Boyd, 32, serves as general manager and chief engineer for the Central Nebraska Public and Irrigation District. Thirty-four-year-old Elwonger, owner of an Auburn motel, last year was the state Jaycee president and now is a national Jaycee vice president.

Thorne, 30, is the mayor of Hastings and a real estate and insurance man.

South Omaha Patrolmen On 12-Hour Shifts

Omaha (AP)—Omaha Police Chief C. Harold Ostler Tuesday ordered 12-hour shifts for patrolmen working the South Omaha territory, which has been the scene of violence and vandalism linked to the strike against Wilson and Co.

Chief Ostler also added 4 officers to the patrol, raising the total to 20.

Another late development was a letter from State Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont to Mayor John Rosenblatt, accusing the union of unlawful action in taking pictures of persons crossing the picket line.

The union said it had been taking pictures of license plates of cars being driven through the picket lines and this action has "been cleared with Police Inspector Jean C. Whinnery."

Whinnery said the union "did not have permission to use cameras on the picket line. The matter was brought up at the station and it was our opinion that taking pictures of cars isn't against the law."

Mayor Rosenblatt said he had turned Simmons' letter over to Safety Director Lynn Carey and Carey would investigate the matter.

The mayor was told by the city legal department that neither he nor the City Council can order a complete ban on the carrying of firearms.

South Platte Towns To Aid Area Project

... Vegetable Plots

Holdrege (UPI) — Towns in the South Platte area have decided to contribute funds toward establishing experimental vegetable plots which might better the economy of the farmers in the area.

Warren Curry, chairman of the South Platte United Chambers of Commerce agriculture committee, called a meeting here to discuss the experimental growing program.

Members had been told earlier that $5,000 would be needed to assist the University of Nebraska in the program.

It is hoped that after the money is spent, state funds will be made available to continue the program.

It was decided at this week's meeting that McCook, Minden, Holdrege and Hastings would raise $2,500 of the total with the 25 other member communities asked to contribute $100 each.

Matching funds will be supplied by the Bureau of Reclamation. Plans call for one major and two minor growing plots.

Red Willow, Phelps, Harlan, Franklin, Kearney, Adams, Webster, Gosper and Clay Counties were represented at the meeting.

Ike's Far East Trip Films Slated At SPUCC Meet

Harvard—A colored film of the recent trip taken by President Eisenhower to and through the Far East will be shown here Thursday at the dinner meeting of the South Platte United Chambers of Commerce.

This will be the first showing of this film in Nebraska, according to Cletus Nelson of Holdrege, SPUCC secretary.

A business session of the board of directors is scheduled for 4 p.m. Thursday.

"We may even hold a brief 'wake' for the late lamented south route of the Interstate Highway," Nelson added.

Federal Control Up To States, Toft Declares

New York (AP)—An Omaha businessman said Tuesday "government control is not merely possible, but it is inevitable if littleness disappears and bigness in business continues."

The speaker, Victor L. Toft, told an audience of automotive parts and equipment manufacturers: "Should that happen, only the government would be powerful enough to take over control." He added: "As night follows day we then have the final step in the bigness of government."

Toft recommended that states assume more responsibility if they want to diffuse federal power. His remarks were contained in a final report as he stepped down as the first president of the Automotive Service Industries Assn.

Toft is executive vice president of the Sidles Co. of Omaha.

Atlas Launching Model Is Planned

...California Structure To Be Like Lincoln Facilities

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — A full scale mockup of an underground missile launching facilities is being built at Convair-Astronautics, the type contemplated at Lincoln Air Force Base in Nebraska.

The Air Force said the mockup is east of the Atlas factory on Kearney Mesa.

It will be built in side-by-side sections rather than raising it to its full 175-foot height.

In operation, massive concrete doors covering the holes would be opened and the missiles would be raised to the surface by elevators before firing.

Maj. Gen. O. J. Ritland, commander of the Air Force's ballistic missile division, last week disclosed plans for an Atlas site at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., for test and check-out purposes.

13 Atlas Squadrons

Later, he said, underground facilities for the missile will be built at other operational sites. The Air Force has announced 13 Atlas squadrons to date.

They include one each near Plattsburg AFB, N.Y., Offutt and Lincoln AFB, Neb.

Earlier plans provided for the Atlas to be maintained horizontally in some instances in reinforced concrete "coffins." At some sites the coffinlike structures were to be placed below ground level, with only the roof exposed.

The Offutt site, now under construction, falls in this category. Col. Alfred Vogler, Air Force Deputy Regional Civil Engineer, said there have been no changes in the plans for the Offutt site.

Storage In Deep Holes

The silo arrangement provides for storage of the missiles in deep, concrete-lined holes containing working platforms for serving the vertical ICBMs.

Shortly before the Christmas holidays, plans for the Lincoln site were pulled back for revision. This was generally interpreted as indicating that the Lincoln installation would be hardened.

This was in line with a prediction made by Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) last April, that the Lincoln missile facility would be the most fully protected of nine Atlas bases planned by the Air Force up to that time. The degree of hardening was not spelled out at that time.

Plans and specifications will be released to contractors in about 60 days, preparatory to calling for bids on the Lincoln project, Col. Vogler said.

Spacemen, Not Lord, May Have Destroyed Wicked Biblical Cities, Says Russ Scientist

Moscow (AP)—A Soviet scientist has turned the Bible story of Sodom and Gomorrah into a science thriller by suggesting the two wicked cities were blown to bits by a nuclear blast set off by invaders from outer space.

Possibly, suggests physicist-mathematician M. A. G. Agrest, Lot's wife was petrified—the Bible says turned into a pillar of salt—when she disobeyed a warning not to linger in the area or look back. Those who looked at the fire and brimstone lost their eyesight and perished, he adds.

Agrest's theory, presented in a Literary Gazette article, was transmitted seriously and in detail by the Soviet news agency Tass. This is how it goes:

Before the dawn of history, the earth may have been visited by space travelers from other planets. Possibly a gigantic space ship approached the earth at a speed close to that of light and then braked for a landing.

Launching Platform?

The landing may have been in the area of the Baalbek Terrace, a platform of huge stone slabs in the anti-Lebanon mountain of Syria, or the slabs may have been constructed as a launching platform by the space invaders. Nobody, says the author, has satisfactorily explained the existence of the Baalbek Terrace.

This area, relatively speaking, is not far from the Libyan desert, where glassy bodies called tektites, containing radioactive isotopes of aluminum and beryllium, have been found. Scientists say these particles are at least a million years old and products of extremely high temperatures.

The Tass account says: "The Soviet scientist believes that the space travelers could have exploded, before leaving the earth, their excess stock of nuclear fuel, after having warned the local population in advance, so that they would not perish from the atomic blast."

"The Soviet scientist believes that during their stay on earth the space travelers tried to convey their knowledge to the people, but in view of the extremely low cultural and technical level of human society of that period it was most difficult to transmit this knowledge."

The Biblical story of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah is told in the 19th chapter of Genesis, which opens with the appearance of two angels to Lot at the Gate of Sodom and relates the warnings sounded by the angels that Lot and his people get out of the city. The 24th and 28th verses then go on:

"And the Lord rained upon Sodom and Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the Lord out of heaven." "And he destroyed these cities, and all the country about, all the inhabitants of the cities, and all things that sprang from the earth." "And his wife looking behind her, was turned into a pillar of salt." "And Abraham got up early in the morning, and in the place where he had stood before with the Lord, he looked toward Sodom and Gomorrah, and the whole land of that country, and he saw the ashes rising from the earth as the smoke of a furnace."

Library Building Plans

Get Board Discussion

The City Library Board again announced plans for a new main library on the present site at 14th and N. At its monthly meeting Tuesday, the board considered in detail all phases of the city's library's service and the proposed new building's adequacy to handle them both now and in the foreseeable future.

Charles E. Dalrymple Jr., libraries director, said that during the past month he had gone over every phase of the library's service.

More Service

He said that the new building would permit full realization of every phase of present services, including future expansion of some of them. He mentioned audio-visual materials as one of these.

He said it "would be a workable, well-designed building."

Plans, he added, take into account the growth of Lincoln over the next 20 to 40 years. They also are in accordance with the estimated population of the city in 1970, he said.

First attention would be given to public service areas, Dalrymple said.

Storage space for 325,000 volumes would be provided, Dalrymple continued, with room for expansion to 400,000-volume capacity.

In other action the board considered a proposal from the Lincoln Artists Guild to use the library as a repository for its collection.

The guild's collection, Dalrymple said, is a fairly large one made up of purchases over the past 10 years of art of all periods, styles and types.

Members were President George Holyoke, Jack Campbell, Mrs. Arnott Folsom and Mrs. Ed Walt.

Absent were Mrs. John Angle, Elwood Thompson and Robert Staples.

FBI Agents, Law Officials Confer

North Platte (UPI) — The first of 3 conferences between FBI agents and Nebraska law officials was held here Tuesday.

Thomas Gearty, FBI in charge of the Omaha FBI office, said emphasis was on the handling of auto theft cases.

Lawmen will hear FBI agents at Norfolk Thursday and at Lincoln next week.

Lincoln Authority To Protest Frontier Application On North Route Suspension

Omaha Chamber Talks On Frontier; No Action Taken

Omaha (P)—The Omaha Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee Tuesday discussed the application Frontier Airlines to abandon its northern route across Nebraska but took no position on the matter.

Committee chairman Floyd Nebergall said it was apparent from the discussion that not enough facts were in hand at this time to permit a positive stand on the problem.

He said the next scheduled meeting is March 8 and the committee may take a position at that time. He said Nebraska Aeronautics Director Jack Obbink will be invited to the March 8 meeting.

A similar position was expressed in behalf of the Omaha Airport Authority by Richard Mooney, Omaha airport manager.

Participating in the discussion was George Naglich, district sales manager of Frontier. He explained the company's position and the contents of its petition to the civil aeronautics board for permission to drop the route.

Nebergall had said earlier he would recommend that the Chamber of Commerce "work closely with the State Aeronautics Commission and the affected communities in their opposition to the Frontier application to give up the northern route."

Frontier had warned several months ago it planned to take this step, and filed its petition with the CAB last Friday.

rally suspend service on the northern Nebraska route.

The authority Tuesday voted to join with the State Aeronautics Dept. and the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce as objectors to the Frontier move.

"The air route gives Lincoln its only tie to the northern half of the state," Executive Director Rolland Harr said. "There is no train or bus service."

The authority was highly critical of Frontier's operations on the route in noting equipment trouble, flight delays, and frequently-changed schedules.

"Frontier hasn't come anywhere near to fulfilling its obligations to open the northern route (linking Lincoln, Norfolk, Ainsworth, Valentine, Chadron, and Casper, Wyo.)"

State Continues Clean Polio Slate

The State Health Department reported Tuesday that the state is continuing its clean polio slate so far this year.

No cases were reported during the past week. There have been no cases reported so far this year. A year ago at this time there was one reported.

A rabid opossum was found in Saline County bringing the number of cases of animal rabies this year to five compared to none at this time last year.

one authority member said. "Frontier should go along with giving the route a fair trial."

Loss of 2 Flights

Dropping of the northern route would mean the loss of two flights daily for Lincoln. The authority anticipated a possible Frontier move later to drop the southern route also.

The authority noted that

Omaha is "going to fight" to northern route suspension.

In other action, the authority re-elected its officers for 1960: Leo J. Beck, Jr., chairman; Charles Stuart, vice chairman; Robert J. Phillips, secretary, and Jack M. Pace, assistant secretary. The fifth member is C. Robert Fulton.

New Beacon In Harr reported that the new beacon at the Union Municipal Airport has been installed by the state. Early reports, he said, indicate it's brighter than the Lincoln Air Force Base beacon.

He said Union runways appear to be weathering the winter in fair shape so far but it's too early to tell how much break-up there will be. He said light snow removal equipment, borrowed from the Air National Guard, was used in keeping the runways clear and the authority loaned its heavier equipment to the Guard.

The authority's financial statement for the first 7 months this fiscal year showed Municipal Airport income of $5,525 over expenses of $12,275 while Union Airport had income of $7,658 less than expenses of $16,274.
